The FEDERAL REGISTER INDEX is published monthly and annually. Entries are carried primarily under the names of the issuing agencies. Significant subjects are also carried.

A numerical finding aid keyed to the Code of Federal Regulations (List of CFR Sections Affected), is published monthly and is cumulated each month, coordinated with the revision dates of the Code volumes.

A list of pages and dates of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER appears at the end of this INDEX.

NUCLEAR MATERIAL:
Byproduct material:
Californium-252, prices, standard forms, handling charges 2489
Export and import:
Editorial changes 1272
Tritium export restrictions to Soviet bloc countries, reduction of 12733
Uranium, depleted; export 21176
Human uses 1272, 22221
Radioisotopes, proposed rule 6400
Licenses:
Applications and exemptions, proposed rules 30204
Carbon-14, for in vitro clinical or laboratory testing 26813, 34110
Byproduct material—Continued
Licenses—Continued
Editorial changes 1271, 2330
Inspection of working conditions 22220
Radioactivity units, definition and schedule of exempt concentrations 29314
Transfer of material 4351, 33969
Packaging of radioactive material for transport 1272, 10438, 16347, 20483, 35491

- Confirmation of effective date — 22794
- Environmental impact statement, supplemental, availability of — 18104
- Use in establishments manufacturing food-packaging materials — 18101, 20233

POLYVINYL CHLORIDE RESIN:
- Alcoholic beverage bottles, use of; proposed rules — 12931
- Food additives, specific. See under Food additives, above.

POTATO CHIPS made from dehydrated potatoes, proposed rule — 20748, 28703

PRESERVES, fruit. See Fruit jelly and preserves, above.

PROHIBITED SUBSTANCES, use in food; proposed rules — 20040, 24374, 30454

PRUNES. See under Fruits, canned, above.

RADIATION:
- See also X-ray baggage inspection; X-ray equipment, below.
- Authority delegation — 11452
- Electronic product:
  - Assembly and reassembly of diagnostic X-ray systems, proposed rules — 33313
  - Variances from performance standards, proposed rules — 29340
- Identification and initial reports, proposed rule — 26007
- X-ray systems:
  - Baggage inspection — 21442
  - Cabinet; performance standard, proposed rules — 28012
  - Diagnostic:
    - Assembly and reassembly, proposed rules — 33313
    - Early certification, notice to manufacturers and assemblers — 20356
    - Extension of effective date — 15444
    - Records and reports, applicability of requirements for assemblers and component manufacturers — 12129, 31828

RADIATION CONTROL FOR HEALTH AND SAFETY ACT of 1968, enforcement provisions; transfer of regulations from PHS — 1926

RADIOLOGICAL HEALTH, reorganization of regulations — 28624, 31006

RECALL of products from market, new interim policy — 27592

RESIDUES of compounds used in food-producing animals, procedures for determining acceptability of assay methods; proposed rules — 19226

RESTRUCTURED FOODS, establishment of common or usual names; proposed rules — 20746, 28703, 32142

SACCHARIN and its salts, status of report and experiments — 13733

SALAD DRESSING, French, identity standard, colorants as optional ingredients; proposed rules — 22491

SALMON. See under Seafood, below.

SANITIZING AGENTS, chemical, use in food-manufacturing establishments; revocation of policy statement — 11077

SEAFOOD:
- Clams:
  - Fresh and frozen, proposed good manufacturing practice regulations, availability of draft — 34353
  - Restructured food, common or usual names, proposed rule — 20748, 28703
- Fish, smoked and smoke-flavored; brining procedure, requirements, good manufacturing practice — 13481
- Fish sticks, restructured food, common or usual names, proposed rule — 20748, 28703
- Mussels, fresh and frozen, proposed good manufacturing practice regulations, availability of draft — 34353
- Oysters, fresh and frozen, proposed good manufacturing practice regulations, availability of draft — 34353

Announcing—

Format and Coverage Changes

Changes in coverage of this List will start in January 1974. These changes will coordinate the List with the revision date of the Code books so that users will be able to determine quickly and easily the changes that have occurred since the revision date of the Code books they are using. Starting in January, coverage will be as follows:

January 1974:

Titles 1–16: Changes published January 1974.
Titles 17–27: Changes published April 1973 through January 1974.
Titles 28–41: Changes published July 1973 through January 1974.
Titles 42–50: Changes published October 1973 through January 1974.

February 1974:

Titles 1–16: Changes published January and February 1974.
Titles 17–27: Changes published April 1973 through February 1974.
Titles 28–41: Changes published July 1973 through February 1974.
Titles 42–50: Changes published October 1973 through February 1974.

This pattern will continue throughout the year.

Comments and suggestions are invited. Write to the Director of the Federal Register, National Archives and Records Service, Washington, D.C. 20408.

LIST OF SECTIONS AFFECTED

WHAT IT IS

The List of Sections Affected is designed to lead users of the Code of Federal Regulations to amendatory actions published in the Federal Register. Entries indicate the nature of the changes. Certain terms used are defined in the glossary below. Proposed rules are listed at the end of appropriate titles.

CHANGE IN SIZE

The List of Sections Affected has been changed to the same size as the Code of Federal Regulations to improve the usefulness of this finding aid. It should be shelved with current Code volumes.

HOW TO USE THIS FINDING AID

The Code of Federal Regulations may be brought up to immediate date by the following steps:

1. Consult this List of Sections Affected for any changes, deletions, or additions published after the revision date of the volume you are using.
2. Check the "Cumulative List of Parts Affected" appearing at the end of the latest issue of the Federal Register for changes published after the last date covered by this issue of the List of Sections Affected.
3. If the latest edition of the Code of Federal Regulations is not yet available, use the previous year's edition and consult the 1972 Annual List of Sections Affected before beginning with step 1 above.

GLOSSARY

Amended—A typographical unit of the CFR was partially set forth.
Recodified—Major portions of CFR were restructured or rearranged, or both.
Redesignated—A typographical unit or larger was renumbered and transferred from one place to another place in the CFR with no change in text.
Removed—A typographical unit was removed from the CFR.
Revised—A typographical unit of the CFR was set forth in full.
Superseded—An existing CFR unit was replaced by regulations appearing under another CFR unit.
Suspension—The entire CFR unit was not in effect for the period of time indicated.
Suspension in part—A portion of the CFR unit was not in effect for the period of time indicated.
Technical amendment—General amendment that may have no substantive effect on regulations.
Typographical unit—A numbered, lettered or undesignated entity appearing in the CFR.

TABLE OF FEDERAL REGISTER ISSUE PAGES AND DATES

A finding aid has been included at the end of this issue which lists the page numbers with the date of publication in the Federal Register.

INQUIRIES AND SUGGESTIONS

Future monthly issues of the List of Sections Affected also will appear in this format. The Office of the Federal Register hopes to bring about other changes which will improve the usefulness of the Federal Register and the Code of Federal Regulations. Inquiries concerning this and other publications of this office and suggestions for improvements will be welcomed by the Director, Office of the Federal Register, National Archives and Records Service, Washington, D.C. 20408.

SUBJECT INDEX

A subject index to the daily Federal Register is published monthly and annually for the calendar year.

PARALLEL TABLE OF STATUTORY AUTHORITIES AND RULES

(Additions to 2 CFR; January–December 1973)

This table lists the sections of the U.S. Code which were added to 2 CFR as a result of new citations of authority carried in the Federal Register during 1973. Recent legislation not yet assigned within the U.S. Code is carried by public law number at the end of the list.

In order to determine the Federal Register page numbers of the parallel CFR citations, users should consult the list of CFR Sections Affected, above.

INDEX

The FEDERAL REGISTER INDEX is published monthly and annually. Entries are carried primarily under the names of the issuing agencies. Significant subjects are also carried.

A numerical finding aid keyed to the Code of Federal Regulations (List of CFR Sections Affected) is published monthly and is cumulated each month during the calendar year.

A list of pages and dates of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER appears at the end of this INDEX.

List of CFR Sections Affected

January–March 1973
Volume 38
Numbers 1–61

Includes U.S.C.–C.F.R.
Table of Authorities

LIST OF SECTIONS AFFECTED

WHAT IT IS

The List of Sections Affected is designed to lead users of the Code of Federal Regulations to amendatory actions published in the Federal Register. Entries indicate the nature of the changes. Certain terms used are defined in the glossary below. Proposed rules are listed at the end of appropriate titles.

CHANGE IN SIZE

The List of Sections Affected has been changed to the same size as the Code of Federal Regulations to improve the usefulness of this finding aid. It should be shelved with current Code volumes.

HOW TO USE THIS FINDING AID

The Code of Federal Regulations, revised as of January 1, 1973, may be brought up to immediate date by the following steps:

1. Consult this List of Sections Affected for any changes, deletions, or additions published after January 1.
2. Check the "Cumulative List of Parts Affected" appearing at the end of the latest issue of the Federal Register for changes published after the last date covered by this issue of the List of Sections Affected.
3. If the edition of the Code of Federal Regulations as of January 1, 1973, is not available, use the previous year's edition and consult the 1972 Annual List of Sections Affected before beginning with step 1 above.

GLOSSARY

Amended—A typographical unit of the CFR was partially set forth.
Recodified—Major portions of CFR were restructured or rearranged, or both.
Redesignated—A typographical unit or larger was renumbered and transferred from one place to another place in the CFR with no change in text.
Removed—A typographical unit was removed from the CFR.
Revised—A typographical unit of the CFR was set forth in full.
Superseded—An existing CFR unit was replaced by regulations appearing under another CFR unit.
Suspension—The entire CFR unit was not in effect for the period of time indicated.
Suspension in part—A portion of the CFR unit was not in effect for the period of time indicated.
Technical amendment—General amendment that may have no substantive effect on regulations.
Typographical unit—A numbered, lettered or undesignated entity appearing in the CFR.

TABLE OF FEDERAL REGISTER ISSUE PAGES AND DATES

A finding aid has been included at the end of this issue which lists the page numbers with the date of publication in the Federal Register.

INQUIRIES AND SUGGESTIONS

Future monthly issues of the List of Sections Affected also will appear in this format. The Office of the Federal Register hopes to bring about other changes which will improve the usefulness of the Federal Register and the Code of Federal Regulations. Inquiries concerning this and other publications of this office and suggestions for improvements will be welcomed by the Director, Office of the Federal Register, National Archives and Records Service, Washington, D.C. 20408.

SUBJECT INDEX

A subject index to the daily Federal Register is published separately, covering the contents of the Federal Register as follows: Monthly for the months of January, February, April, May, July, August, October, November and December; quarterly for the quarters ending in March, June and September; and annually for the calendar year

Agencies preparing documents for publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER are reminded that the revised rules of the Administrative Committee of the Federal Register go into effect on January 3, 1973. (1 CFR Chapter I, 37 F.R. 23602, November 4, 1972.)

These revised rules include the following significant changes:

1. Requirement for a preamble in each proposed rule making and final rule making document that describes the contents of the document in a manner sufficient to apprise a reader who is not an expert in the subject area of the general subject matter of the document.

2. Requirement for setting forth specific effective dates and action dates.

3. Change in publication dates of the daily FEDERAL REGISTER (Monday through Friday instead of Tuesday through Saturday). See 1 CFR 17.2, 18.12, and 18.17.

Title 3—The President

PROCLAMATION 4177

Proclamation Amending Part 3 of the Appendix to the Tariff Schedules of the United States with Respect to the Importation of Agricultural Commodities

By the President of the United States of America

A Proclamation

WHEREAS, pursuant to section 22 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, as amended (7 U.S.C. 624), by Presidential Proclamation limitations have been imposed on the quantities of certain dairy products which may be imported into the United States in any quota year; and

WHEREAS, in accordance with section 102(3) of the Tariff Classification Act of 1962, the President by Proclamation No. 3548 of August 21, 1963 (28 F.R. 9279), proclaimed the additional import restrictions set forth in part 3 of the Appendix to the Tariff Schedules of the United States; and

WHEREAS the import restrictions on certain dairy products set forth in part 3 of the Appendix to the Tariff Schedules of the United States as proclaimed by Proclamation No. 3548 have been amended by Proclamation No. 3558 of October 5, 1963; Proclamation No. 3562 of November 26, 1963; Proclamation No. 3597 of July 7, 1964; section 88 of the Tariff Schedules Technical Amendments Act of 1965 (79 Stat. 950); Proclamation No. 3709 of March 31, 1966; Proclamation No. 3790 of June 30, 1967; Proclamation No. 3822 of December 16, 1967; Proclamation No. 3856 of June 10, 1968; Proclamation No. 3870 of September 24, 1968; Proclamation No. 3884 of January 6, 1969; Proclamation No. 4026 of December 31, 1970; and Proclamation No. 4138 of June 3, 1972; and

WHEREAS the Secretary of Agriculture has reported to me that he believes that additional quantities of dried milk provided for in item 950.02 of the Tariff Schedules of the United States (hereinafter referred to as "nonfat dry milk") may be imported for a temporary period without rendering or tending to render ineffective, or materially interfering with, the price support program now conducted by the

V38-1 JAN 3 73 XUM

Department of Agriculture for milk or reducing substantially the amount of products processed in the United States from domestic milk; and

WHEREAS, under the authority of section 22, I have requested the United States Tariff Commission to make an investigation with respect to this matter; and

WHEREAS the Secretary of Agriculture has determined and reported to me that a condition exists with respect to nonfat dry milk which requires emergency treatment and that the quantitative limitation imposed on nonfat dry milk should be increased during the period ending February 15, 1973, without awaiting the recommendations of the United States Tariff Commission with respect to such action; and

WHEREAS I find and declare that the importation during the period ending February 15, 1973, of the additional quantity of nonfat dry milk specified below will not render or tend to render ineffective, or materially interfere with, the price support program which is being undertaken by the Department of Agriculture for milk and will not reduce substantially the amount of products processed in the United States from domestic milk; and that a condition exists which requires emergency treatment and that the quantitative limitation imposed on nonfat dry milk should be increased during such period without awaiting the recommendations of the United States Tariff Commission with respect to such action;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, RICHARD NIXON, President of the United States of America, acting under and by virtue of the authority vested in me as President, and in conformity with the provisions of section 22 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, as amended, and the Tariff Classification Act of 1962, do hereby proclaim that headnote 3(a) of Part 3 of the Appendix to the Tariff Schedules of the United States is temporarily amended by adding a new subdivision as follows:

(vi) Notwithstanding any other provision of this part, 25,000,000 pounds of dried milk described in item 115.50 may be entered during the period beginning December 30, 1972, and ending February 15, 1973, in addition to the annual quota quantity specified for such article under item 950.02, and import licenses shall not be required for entering such additional quantity. No individual, partnership, firm, corporation, association, or other legal entity (including its affiliates or subsidiaries) may during such period enter pursuant to this provision quantities of such additional dried milk totaling in excess of 2,500,000 pounds.

The additional quota quantity provided for herein shall continue in effect pending Presidential action upon receipt of the report and recommendations of the Tariff Commission with respect thereto.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this thirtieth day of December in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and seventy-two, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and ninety seventh.

Title 15—COMMERCE AND FOREIGN TRADE

Chapter X—Office of Foreign Direct Investments, Department of Commerce

PART 1000—FOREIGN DIRECT INVESTMENT REGULATIONS

Transfer of Capital: Certain Export-Related Transactions

EDITORIAL NOTE: The Foreign Direct Investment Regulations (the Regulations) appear in Title 15, Chapter X, Part 1000 of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR). All sections of the Foreign Direct Investment Regulations contained in CFR are preceded by the designation "1000" (e.g. § 1000.312). The "1000" prefix has, for convenience, been eliminated from the section references contained in the explanatory material below. The abbreviations "DI" and "AFN" are used to refer to "direct investor" and "affiliated foreign national."

The Office of Foreign Direct Investments announced on January 2, 1973 that certain changes would be made in the

V 38 - 1 JAN 3 73 XUM

Regulations for the year 1973. (The announcement is published in the notices section of today's FEDERAL REGISTER.) One of the announced changes will exempt qualifying export credits extended by DIs to AFNs from substantive program effect, effective January 1, 1973. In general, no positive transfers of capital will be charged for the extension of such credits and no negative transfers of capital will be recognizable upon repayment of them. Implementation of this change will be done through amending regulations, which will include standards of qualifying exports and terms of credit, and will be published initially in proposed form to afford the public an opportunity to comment.

In the period before promulgation of such amending regulations in final form there exists the possibility that DIs, realizing that qualifying export credits will be exempted, could make use of that knowledge to gain undue advantages unless protective amendments are now made to the existing Regulations. Accordingly, notice is hereby given of the adoption by the Office, effective January 1, 1973, of the amendments published herewith. When the regulations referred to in the preceding paragraph are adopted in final form, conforming revisions of the amendments published herewith will be made as may be necessary.

1. Section 313 is amended, by the addition of a new paragraph (f), to provide that, commencing January 1, 1973, no negative transfer of capital will be recognized, in computing a DI's net transfer of capital to any scheduled area, with respect to any transaction relating to the repayment or financing of export credit extended by a DI to an AFN. Such transactions include, but are not limited to, (1) repayment by an AFN of export credit extended to it by the DI, (2) the discount, sale, or other transfer by the DI of an AFN debt obligation related to such export credit, (3) the repayment of a debt obligation, related to such export credit and held by a person within the United States other than the DI, which repayment would otherwise have been deemed a negative transfer of capital under the proviso to § 312(c)(4) or the proviso to § 312(c)(12), and (4) repayment or other transfer of funds or property by an unincorporated AFN, with respect to exports from the DI, which repayment or transfer would otherwise have resulted in a reduction in the net assets of such AFN.

When the final regulations referred to in the first paragraph above are adopted, it is expected that the new § 313(f) will be amended, effective from January 1, 1973, to deny the recogniton of negative transfers of capital only with respect to transactions relating to the same qualifying category of export credit as will be exempted from positive transfer of capital charges under those final regulations. Section 313(f) is promulgated at this time to deny negative transfers of capital for all export-related transactions until the qualifying category of exempt transactions is established in final regulations after publication of proposed regulations and consideration of public comment. Without this protective amendment effective January 1, 1973, DIs might claim an entitlement to such negative transfers of capital, and further might abuse the proposed exemption by causing AFNs to repay export obligations at an accelerated rate until the exemption amendments referred to in the first paragraph above are finally adopted.

The nonrecogniton of negative transfers of capital under new § 313(f) does not apply to transactions included in a DI's calculation of net transfers of capital for 1972 under the options provided by § 313(e) of the Regulations, discussed in the following paragraphs.

2. Section 313(e) of the Regulations affords DIs options with respect to AFN repayments to the DI in January or February 1973 of debt obligations (including those relating to export credits extended by the DI to the AFN) outstanding on December 31, 1972. If such debt obligations are repaid in January 1973, or (as alternatively elected by the DI) repaid in January and February 1973, the resulting transfers of capital by incorporated AFNs and decreases in net assets of unincorporated AFNs may be included in calculating the DI's 1972 net transfers of capital for pertinent scheduled areas, provided the DI has made a worldwide negative net transfer of capital during the period elected and the aggregate amount of such AFN debt repayment used for 1972 calculations does not exceed the amount of such worldwide negative net transfer of capital. This provision is not being amended.

Where a DI takes the benefit for 1972 of export debt repayments made during the first month or first 2 months of 1973, the ultimate effect under the Regulations as in force December 31, 1972 would be, generally speaking, to impose offsetting charges in 1973 to the extent that the DI's total export credit outstanding to AFNs at yearend 1973 exceeds the level at which it stood at yearend 1972 after reduction by repayments used under § 313(e). Where, for example, the extensions and repayments of export credit are equal in 1973, the actual level of export credit would be the same on December 31, 1973 as on December 31, 1972, but under § 313(e)(3) the January–February negative transfers of capital attributed to 1972 may not be included in calculating 1973 net transfers of capital. The result is a net positive transfer of capital in 1973, equal to the negative transfers of capital included in 1972 computations.

Under the contemplated exemption amendments referred to in the first paragraph above, however, positive transfer of capital charges will no longer be imposed for the extension of qualifying export credits. Unless special provision is made, therefore, the Regulations would no longer operate automatically to impose offsetting charges in 1973 or subsequent years where the DI had elected to use for 1972 compliance its AFNs' January or February 1973 repayments of export debt of the type that would qualify for exemption. This result, if permitted, would put the DI electing the 1972 use of such repayments into a more advantageous position than it would expect to occupy under the Regulations as they existed at the end of 1972, and also would put such a DI in a more advantageous position than other exporting DIs not electing 1972 use of such January or February export debt repayments.

To prevent such undue benefit to DIs electing under § 313(e) with respect to export debt obligations, the addition to the Regulations of § 312(e), published herewith, has been adopted by the Office.

The new § 312(e) provides that, to the extent that a DI under § 313(e) includes 1973 repayments of export-related debt obligations for any scheduled area, the DI is deemed in 1973 and subsequent years to make transfers of capital to AFNs in the amount of the annual increase in (x) the amount of export-related debt obligations of its non-Canadian AFNs held by the DI at the end of the year over (y) the amount of such debt obligations held by the DI on December 31, 1972 after reduction for 1973 repayments of export-related debt obligations applied to the year 1972 pursuant to § 313(e). The deemed transfer of capital is apportioned among the scheduled areas in proportion to the use for 1972 of 1973 repayments of export-related debt obligations. For the purposes of § 312(e), the DI is deemed to hold at yearend any such debt obligation that has been the subject of a transaction which by application of § 312(c)(4) or § 312(c)(12) would not involve a transfer of capital, unless a transfer of capital would have been deemed made under the proviso to either § 312(c)(4) or § 312(c)(12).

When the final regulations referred to in the first paragraph above are adopted, it is expected that the new § 312(e) will be amended, effective from January 1, 1973, to apply only with respect to transactions relating to the same qualifying category of export credit as will be exempted from positive transfer of capital charges under those final regulations. The examples below, however, are based on § 312(e) as adopted herewith.

It should be noted that neither the adoption of § 313(f) or of § 312(e) will affect the operation of § 313(e) for 1972 compliance. The proviso to § 313(f) insures that January or February 1973 repayments of export credit which would constitute negative transfers of capital under the Regulations as in effect on December 31, 1972, will constitute negative transfers of capital for purposes of § 313(e), even though such repayments may not constitute negative transfers of capital for the year 1973. Moreover, any extensions of export credit by a DI to an AFN during the relevant option period will be positive transfers of capital for purposes of computing the worldwide net transfer of capital under § 313(e)(2), since the Regulations are not modified in this respect by the amendments published herewith; this treatment of extensions of credit for purposes of § 313(e) will not be affected by any provision which may subsequently be adopted exempting qualified export credits from positive transfer of capital charges for the year 1973.

Example 1. On December 31, 1972, the outstanding export-related debt obligations of AFNs held by a DI total $200. The DI elects to utilize § 313(e) to include certain AFN debt repayments during January and February of 1973 for computing 1972 compliance. During the 2-month period, AFNs repay the DI $150 of the export-related debt obligations outstanding on December 31, 1972. The DI also extends new export-related credit to AFNs of $150 during January and February. The new extensions of export credit are treated as positive transfers of capital for purposes of computing the limiting worldwide negative net transfer of capital during the period. Because of other transactions effected during the extension period the negative net transfer of capital is at least $150. The DI therefore may treat the $150 of debt repayment as a negative transfer of capital for purposes of computing 1972 compliance. Thus, as of December 31, 1972, the DI is deemed to hold AFN export-related debt obligations of $50 ($200 minus the $150 repayment).

On December 31, 1973, the DI holds outstanding export-related debt obligations of AFNs in the amount of $125. The DI will be deemed to have made a positive transfer of capital in 1973 of $75 ($125 minus $50). On December 31, 1974, outstanding AFN export-related debt obligations held by the DI total $250. The DI will be deemed to have made a positive transfer of capital in 1974 of $75. Although the annual increase in AFN export-related debt obligations held by the DI was $125 ($250 minus $125), only $75 remained to be "recaptured."

Example 2. Same facts as stated in the first paragraph of Example 1. On December 31, 1973, the outstanding AFN export-related debt obligations held by the DI amount to $100. In addition, during 1973 an AFN borrowed $25 from a U.S. bank subject to the Federal Reserve Foreign Credit Restraint Program (FRFCRP) and used the funds to repay a $25 export-related debt obligation to the DI. Because the borrowing of the funds was not charged against the bank's ceiling under the FRFCRP, by application of § 312(c)(12) no transfer of capital by the AFN would be recognizable in connection with repayment to the DI of the $25 export-related debt obligation. Thus, the DI will be deemed to hold the $25 obligation as of December 31, 1973, in addition to the $100 of AFN export-related debt obligations actually held. Accordingly, the DI will be deemed to make a positive transfer of capital in 1973 of $75 ($125 minus $50).

If, however, the AFN had repaid the $25 borrowing from the bank within 1973, the proviso to § 312(c)(12) would operate to deem a negative transfer of capital (although the newly-adopted § 313(f) would prevent its inclusion in calculating net transfers of capital). In this case the DI would not be deemed to hold the $25 obligation as of December 31, 1973. The DI would be deemed to have made a positive transfer of capital in 1973 of only $50 ($100 minus $50).

3. Advance notice of proposed rule making with respect to the amendments published herewith would tend to defeat their purposes, to the detriment of the U.S. balance of payments, by affording DIs an opportunity to gain undue advantages under the Regulations, as described above, after receiving notice of the intended exemption amendments referred to in the first paragraph above. Additionally, the foreign direct investment program is structured on a calendar-year basis, and it is impractical to use a date other than January 1, 1973 as the beginning date for the amendments published herewith to govern affected transactions. For these reasons it is found that notice and public procedures prior to promulgation of these amendments would be contrary to the public interest and impracticable, and that there is good cause to make the amendments effective immediately upon publication and applicable to all transactions occurring on or after January 1, 1973.

The text of the amendments follows.

a. Paragraph (e) is added to § 1000.312 as follows:

§ 1000.312 Transfers of capital.

* * * * *

(e) To the extent that a direct investor pursuant to § 1000.313(e) includes, in the computation of the net transfer of capital made to any scheduled area in 1972, repayments by affiliated foreign nationals of debt obligations created in connection with exports of goods or services by the direct investor to or through affiliated foreign nationals other than Canadian affiliates (export-related debt obligations), the direct investor shall be deemed to make transfers of capital to affiliated foreign nationals in 1973 and subsequent years, in the amount of each annual increase in (x) the amount of export-related debt obligations held by the direct investor at yearend over (y) the amount of export-related debt obligations held by the direct investor as of December 31, 1972 after reduction for repayments of export-related debt obligations included for the year 1972 pursuant to § 1000.313(e). The transfer of capital deemed made under this paragraph shall be apportioned among the scheduled areas in the same proportions as the amounts included in each scheduled area under § 1000.313(e) for repayment of export-related debt obligations in calculating the net transfer of capital to each scheduled area for the year 1972. For purposes of this paragraph, a direct investor is deemed to hold on December 31 of 1972 or any subsequent year any export-related debt obligation that has been the subject of a transaction which by application of paragraph (c)(4) or paragraph (c)(12) of this section would not involve a transfer of capital, unless a transfer of capital would have been deemed to have been made by an affiliated foreign national under the proviso to either such paragraph.

b. Paragraph (f) is added to § 1000.313 as follows:

§ 1000.313 Net transfer of capital.

* * * * *

(f) Commencing January 1, 1973, in calculating the net transfer of capital to all affiliated foreign nationals in any scheduled area, the DI shall exclude (1) any transfer described in § 1000.312(b) or in the provisos to §§ 1000.312(c)(4) or 1000.312(c)(12) that relates to a debt obligation created in connection with any export of goods or services by a direct investor to or through an incorporated affiliated foreign national, and (2) any decrease in the net assets of any unincorporated affiliated foreign national in connection with any export of goods or services by a direct investor to or through any such affiliated foreign national: Provided, That this paragraph shall not apply to the transactions included in calculating, in accordance with paragraph (e) of this section, the amount of any net transfer of capital made by a direct investor during the year 1972.

(Sec. 5, Act of Oct. 6, 1917, 40 Stat. 415, as amended, 12 U.S.C. 95a; E.O. 11387, Jan. 1, 1968, 33 F.R. 47)

The amendments hereby adopted shall be effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (1–3–73) and applicable to all transactions occurring on or after January 1, 1973.

WILLIAM V. HOYT,
Director, Office of Foreign Direct Investments.

Title 21—FOOD AND DRUGS

Chapter I—Food and Drug Administration, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare

SUBCHAPTER B—FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

PART 121—FOOD ADDITIVES

Subpart D—Food Additives Permitted in Food for Human Consumption

CHLORDIMEFORM

A petition (FAP 2H2661) was filed jointly by Ciba Agrochemical Co. (now Ciba-Geigy Corp.), Post Office Box 1105, Vero Beach, FL 32960, and NOR–AM Agricultural Products, Inc., 11710 Lake Avenue, Woodstock IL 60098, in accordance with provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 348), proposing establishment of a food additive tolerance (21 CFR Part 121) of 15 parts per million for combined residues of the insecticide chlordimeform (N'-(4-chloro-o-tolyl)-N,N - dimethylformamidine) and its metabolites containing the 4-chloro-o-toluidine moiety (calculated as the parent insecticide) in or on dried prunes from application of the insecticide to the growing raw agricultural commodity plums (fresh prunes). (For a related

The Reorganization Plan No. 3 of 1970, published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of October 6, 1970 (35 F.R. 15623), transferred (effective December 2, 1970) to the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency the functions vested in the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare for establishing tolerances for pesticide chemicals under sections 406, 408, and 409 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, as amended (21 U.S.C. 346, 346a, and 348). Pesticide tolerances for chlordimeform and a food additive tolerance for residues in the animal feed item cottonseed hulls have been previously established.

Having evaluataed the data in the petition and other relevant material, it is concluded that the tolerance should be established.

Therefore, pursuant to provisions of the act (sec. 409(c) (1), (4) 72 Stat. 1786; 21 U.S.C. 348(c) (1), (4)), the authority transferred to the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency (35 F.R. 15623), and the authority delegated by the Administrator to the Deputy Assistant Administrator for Pesticides Programs (36 F.R. 9038), Part 121 is amended by adding the following new section to Subpart D:

§ 121.1249 Chlordimeform.

A tolerance of 15 parts per million is established for combined residues of the insecticide chlordimeform (N'-(4-chloro-o-tolyl)-N,N-dimethylformamidine) and its metabolites containing the 4-chloro-o-toluidine moiety (calculated as the parent insecticide) in or on dried prunes from application of the insecticide to the growing raw agricultural commodity plums (fresh prunes).

Any person who will be adversely affected by the foregoing order may at any time within 30 days after its date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER file with the Hearing Clerk, Environmental Protection Agency, Room 3902A, Fourth and M Street SW., Waterside Mall, Washington, D.C. 20460, written objections thereto in quintuplicate. Objections shall show wherein the person filing will be adversely affected by the order and specify with particularity the provisions of the order deemed objectionable and the grounds for the objections. If a hearing is requested, the objections must state the issues for the hearing. A hearing will be granted if the objections are supported by grounds legally sufficient to justify the relief sought. Objections may be accompanied by a memorandum or brief in support thereof.

Effective date. This order shall become effective on its date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (1-3-73).

Title 26—INTERNAL REVENUE

Chapter I—Internal Revenue Service, Department of the Treasury

SUBCHAPTER A—INCOME TAX

[T. D. 7242]

PART 1—INCOME TAX; TAXABLE YEARS BEGINNING AFTER DECEMBER 31, 1953

Section 170(b)(1)(A) Organizations

On May 22, 1971, notice of proposed rule making with respect to promulgation of regulations which relate to organizations described in section 170(b)(1)(A) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (36 F.R. 9298). A public hearing on these proposed regulations was held on June 28, 1971. A separate notice with respect to community trusts was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER for October 8, 1971 (36 F.R. 19598), and a separate hearing was held on December 7, 1971. After consideration of all such relevant matter as was presented, the income tax regulations (26 CFR Part 1) are amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. Immediately after § 1.170A-8, insert the following section:

§ 1.170A-9 Definition of section 170(b)(1)(A) organization.

The term "section 170(b)(1)(A) organization" as used in the regulations under section 170 means any organization described in paragraphs (a) through (i) of this section, effective with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1969, except as otherwise provided. Section 1.170-2(b) shall continue to be applicable with respect to taxable years beginning prior to January 1, 1970. The term "one or more organizations described in section 170(b)(1)(A) (other than in clauses (vii) and (viii))" as used in sections 507 and 509 of the Code and the regulations thereunder means one or more organizations described in paragraphs (a) through (e) of this section, except as modified by the regulations under part II of subchapter F of chapter I or under chapter 42.

(a) Church or a convention or association of churches. An organization is described in section 170(b)(1)(A)(i) if it is a church or a convention or association of churches.

(b) Educational organization and organizations for the benefit of certain State and municipal colleges and universities—(1) Educational organization. An educational organization is described in section 170(b)(1)(A)(ii) if its primary function is the presentation of formal instruction and it normally maintains a regular faculty and curriculum and normally has a regularly enrolled body of pupils or students in attendance at the place where its educational activities are regularly carried on. The term includes institutions such as primary, secondary, preparatory, or high schools, and colleges and universities. It includes Federal, State, and other public-supported schools which otherwise come within the definition. It does not include organizations engaged in both educational and non-educational activities unless the latter are merely incidental to the educational activities. A recognized university which incidentally operates a museum or sponsors concerts is an educational organization within the meaning of section 170(b)(1)(A)(ii). However, the operation of a school by a museum does not necessarily qualify the museum as an educational organization within the meaning of this subparagraph.

(2) Organizations for the benefit of certain State and municipal colleges and universities. (i) An organization is described in section 170(b)(1)(A)(iv) if it meets the support requirements of subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph and is organized and operated exclusively to receive, hold, invest, and administer property and to make expenditures to or for the benefit of a college or university which is an organization described in subdivision (iii) of this subparagraph. The phrase "expenditures to or for the benefit of a college or university" includes expenditures made for any one or more of the normal functions of colleges and universities such as the acquisition and maintenance of real property comprising part of the campus area; the erection of, or participation in the erection of, college or university buildings; the acquisition and maintenance of equipment and furnishings used for, or in conjunction with, normal functions of colleges and universities; or expenditures for scholarships, libraries and student loans.

(ii) To qualify under section 170(b)(1)(A)(iv), the organization receiving the contribution must normally receive a substantial part of its support from the United States or any State or political subdivision thereof or from direct or indirect contributions from the general public, or from a combination of two or more of such sources. For such purposes, the term "support" does not include income received in the exercise or performance by the organization of its charitable, educational, or other purpose or function constituting the basis for its exemption under section 501(a). An example of an indirect contribution from the public is the receipt by the organization of its share of the proceeds of an annual collection campaign of a community chest, community fund, or united fund. In determining the amount of support received by such organization with respect to a contribution of property which is subject to reduction under section 170(e), the fair market value of the property shall be taken into account.

(iii) The college or university (including a land grant college or university) to be benefited must be an educational organization referred to in section 170(b)(1)(A)(ii) and subparagraph (1) of this paragraph which is an agency or instrumentality of a State or political subdivision thereof, or which is owned or operated by a State or political subdivision thereof or by an agency or instrumentality of one or more States or political subdivisions.

(c) Hospitals and medical research organizations—(1) Hospitals. An organization (other than one described in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph) is described in section 170(b)(1)(A)(iii) if:

(i) It is a hospital, and

(ii) Its principal purpose or function is the providing of medical or hospital care or medical education or research.

The term "hospital" includes (a) Federal hospitals and (b) State, county, and municipal hospitals which are instrumentalities of governmental units referred to in section 170(c)(1) and otherwise come within the definition. A rehabilitation institution, outpatient clinic, or community mental health or drug treatment center may qualify as a "hospital" within the meaning of subdivision (i) of this subparagraph if its principal purpose or function is the providing of hospital or medical care. For purposes of this subdivision, the term "medical care" shall include the treatment of any physical or mental disability or condition, whether on an inpatient or outpatient basis, provided the cost of such treatment is deductible under section 213 by the person treated. An organization, all the accommodations of which qualify as being part of an "extended care facility" within the meaning of 42 U.S.C. 1395x(j), may qualify as a "hospital" within the meaning of subdivision (i) of this subparagraph if its principal purpose or function is the providing of hospital or medical care. The term "hospital" does not, however, include convalescent homes or homes for children or the aged, nor does the term include institutions whose principal purpose or function is to train handicapped individuals to pursue some vocation. An organization whose principal purpose or function is the providing of medical education or medical research will not be considered a "hospital" within the meaning of subdivision (i) of this subparagraph, unless it is also actively engaged in providing medical or hospital care to patients on its premises or in its facilities, on an inpatient or outpatient basis, as an integral part of its medical education or medical research functions. See, however, subparagraph (2) of this paragraph with respect to certain medical research organizations.

(2) Certain medical resarch organizations. [Reserved]

(d) Governmental unit. A governmental unit is described in section 170(b)(1)(A)(v) if it is referred to in section 170(c)(1).

(e) Definition of section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) organization—(1) In general. An organization is described in section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) if it is:

(i) A corporation, trust, or community chest, fund, or foundation, referred to in section 170(c)(2) (other than an organization specifically described in paragraphs (a) through (d) of this section), and

(ii) A "publicly supported" organization.

For purposes of this paragraph, an organization is "publicly supported" if it normally receives a substantial part of its support from a governmental unit referred to in section 170(c)(1) or from direct or indirect contributions from the general public. An organization will be treated as being "publicly supported" if it meets the requirements of either subparagraph (2) or subparagraph (3) of this paragraph. Types of organizations which, subject to the provisions of this paragraph, generally qualify under section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) as "publicly supported" are publicly or governmentally supported museums of history, art, or science, libraries, community centers to promote the arts, organizations providing facilities for the support of an opera, symphony orchestra, ballet, or repertory drama or for some other direct service to the general public, and organizations such as the American Red Cross or the United Givers Fund.

(2) Determination whether an organization is "publicly supported"; 33⅓ percent-of-support test. An organization will be treated as a "publicly supported" organization if the total amount of support which the organization "normally" (as defined in subparagraph (4) of this paragraph) receives from governmental units referred to in section 170(c)(1), from contributions made directly or indirectly by the general public, or from a combination or these sources, equals at least 33⅓ percent of the total support "normally" received by the organization. See subparagraphs (6), (7), and (8) of this paragraph for the definition of "support." The application of this test is illustrated by Example (1) of subparagraph (9) of this paragraph.

(3) Determination whether an organization is "publicly supported"; facts and circumstances test for organizations failing to meet 33⅓ percent-of-support test. Even if an organization fails to meet the 33⅓ percent-of-support test described in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, it will be treated as a "publicly supported" organization if it normally receives a substantial part of its support from governmental units, from direct or indirect contributions from the general public, or from a combination of these sources, and meets the other requirements of this subparagraph. In order to satisfy this subparagraph, an organization must meet the requirements of subdivisions (i) and (ii) of this subparagraph in order to establish, under all the facts and circumstances, that it normally receives a substantial part of its support from governmental units or from direct or indirect contributions from the general public, and it must be in the nature of a "publicly supported" organization, taking into account the factors described in subdivisions (iii) through (vii) of this subparagraph. The requirements and factors referred to in the preceding sentence with respect to a "publicly supported" organization (other than one described in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph) are:

(i) Ten percent-of-support limitation. The percentage of support "normally" (as defined in subparagraph (4) of this paragraph) received by an organization from governmental units, from contributions made directly or indirectly by the general public, or from a combination of these sources, must be "substantial." For purposes of this subparagraph, an organization will not be treated as "normally" receiving a "substantial" amount of governmental or public support unless the total amount of governmental and public support "normally" received equals at least 10 percent of the total support "normally" received by such organization. See subparagraphs (6), (7), and (8) of this paragraph for the definition of "support."

(ii) Attraction of public support. An organization must be so organized and operated as to attract new and additional public or governmental support on a continuous basis. An organization will be considered to meet this requirement if it maintains a continuous and bona fide program for solicitation of funds from the general public, community, or membership group involved, or if it carries on activities designed to attract support from governmental units or other organizations described in section 170(b)(1)(A)(i) through (vi). In determining whether an organization maintains a continuous and bona fide program for solicitation of funds from the general public or community, consideration will be given to whether the scope of its fund-raising activities is reasonable in light of its charitable activities. Consideration will also be given to the fact that an organization may, in its early years of existence, limit the scope of its solicitation to persons deemed most likely to provide seed money in an amount sufficient to enable it to commence its charitable activities and expand its solicitation program.

In addition to the requirements set forth in subdivisions (i) and (ii) of this subparagraph which must be satisfied, all pertinent facts and circumstances, including the following factors, will be taken into consideration in determining whether an organization is "publicly supported" within the meaning of subparagraph (1) of this paragraph. However, an organization is not generally required to satisfy all of the factors in subdivisions (iii) through (vii) of this subparagraph. The factors relevant to each case and the weight accorded to any one of them may differ depending upon the nature and purpose of the organization and the length of time it has been in existence.

(iii) Percentage of financial support. The percentage of support received by an organization from public or governmental sources will be taken into consideration in determining whether an organization is "publicly supported." The higher the percentage of support above the 10 percent requirement of subdivision (i) of this subparagraph from public or governmental sources, the lesser will be the burden of establishing the publicly supported nature of the organization through other factors described in this subparagraph, while the lower the percentage, the greater will be the burden.

V 38 - 1 JAN 3 73 XUM

If the percentage of the organization's support from public or governmental sources is low because it receives a high percentage of its total support from investment income on its endowment funds, such fact will be treated as evidence of compliance with this subdivision if such endowment funds were originally contributed by a governmental unit or by the general public. However, if such endowment funds were originally contributed by a few individuals or members of their families, such fact will increase the burden on the organization of establishing compliance with the other factors described in this subparagraph.

(iv) Sources of support. The fact that an organization meets the requirement of subdivision (i) of this subparagraph through support from governmental units or directly or indirectly from a representative number of persons, rather than receiving almost all of its support from the members of a single family, will be taken into consideration in determining whether an organization is "publicly supported." In determining what is a "representative number of persons," consideration will be given to the type of organization involved, the length of time it has been in existence, and whether it limits its activities to a particular community or region or to a special field which can be expected to appeal to a limited number of persons.

(v) Representative governing body. The fact that an organization has a governing body which represents the broad interests of the public, rather than the personal or private interests of a limited number of donors (or persons standing in a relationship to such donors which is described in section 4946(a)(1)(C) through (G)) will be taken into account in determining whether an organization is "publicly supported." An organization will be treated as meeting this requirement if it has a governing body (whether designated in the organization's governing instrument or bylaws as a Board of Directors, Board of Trustees, etc.) which is comprised of public officials acting in their capacities as such; of individuals selected by public officials acting in their capacities as such; of persons having special knowledge or expertise in the particular field or discipline in which the organization is operating; of community leaders, such as elected or appointed officials, clergymen, educators, civic leaders, or other such persons representing a broad cross-section of the views and interests of the community; or, in the case of a membership organization, of individuals elected pursuant to the organization's governing instrument or bylaws by a broadly based membership.

(vi) Availability of public facilities or services; public participation in programs or policies. (a) The fact that an organization is of the type which generally provides facilities or services directly for the benefit of the general public on a continuing basis (such as a museum or library which holds open its building and facilities to the public, a symphony orchestra which gives public performances, a conservation organization which provides educational services to the public through the distribution of educational materials, or an old age home which provides domiciliary or nursing services for members of the general public) will be considered evidence that such organization is "publicly supported."

(b) The fact that an organization is an educational or research institution which regularly publishes scholarly studies that are widely used by colleges and universities or by members of the general public will also be considered evidence that such organization is "publicly supported."

(c) Similarly, the following factors will also be considered evidence that an organization is "publicly supported:"

(1) The participation in, or sponsorship of, the programs of the organization by members of the public having special knowledge or expertise, public officials, or civic or community leaders;

(2) The maintenance of a definitive program by an organization to accomplish its charitable work in the community, such as slum clearance or developing employment opportunities; and

(3) The receipt of a significant part of its funds from a public charity or governmental agency to which it is in some way held accountable as a condition of the grant, contract, or contribution.

(vii) Additional factors pertinent to membership organizations. The following are additional factors to be considered in determining whether a membership organization is "publicly supported":

(a) Whether the solicitation for dues-paying members is designed to enroll a substantial number of persons in the community or area, or in a particular profession or field of special interest (taking into account the size of the area and the nature of the organization's activities);

(b) Whether membership dues for individual (rather than institutional) members have been fixed at rates designed to make membership available to a broad cross section of the interested public, rather than to restrict membership to a limited number of persons; and

(c) Whether the activities of the organization will be likely to appeal to persons having some broad common interest or purpose, such as educational activities in the case of alumni associations, musical activities in the case of symphony societies, or civic affairs in the case of parent-teacher associations.

See examples (2) through (5) contained in subparagraph (9) of this paragraph for illustrations of this subparagraph.

(4) Definition of "normally"; general rule.—(i) Normally; one-third support test. For purposes of subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, an organization will be considered as "normally" meeting the 33⅓ percent-of-support test for its current taxable year and the taxable year immediately succeeding its current year, if, for the 4 taxable years immediately preceding the current taxable year, the organization meets the 33⅓ percent-of-support test described in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph on an aggregate basis.

(ii) Normally; facts and circumstances test. For purposes of subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, an organization will be considered as "normally" meeting the requirements of subparagraph (3) of this paragraph for its current taxable year and the taxable year immediately succeeding its current year, if, for the 4 taxable years immediately preceding the current taxable year, the organization meets the requirements of subparagraph (3) (i) and (ii) of this paragraph on an aggregate basis and satisfies a sufficient combination of the factors set forth in subparagraph (3) (iii) through (vii) of this paragraph. In the case of subparagraph (3) (iii) and (iv) of this paragraph, facts pertinent to years preceding 4 taxable years immediately preceding the current taxable year may also be taken into consideration. The combination of factors set forth in subparagraph (3) (iii) through (vii) of this paragraph which an organization "normally" must meet does not have to be the same for each 4-year period so long as there exists a sufficient combination of factors to show compliance with subparagraph (3) of this paragraph.

(iii) Special rule. The fact that an organization has "normally" met the requirements of subparagraph (2) of this paragraph for a current taxable year, but is unable "normally" to meet such requirements for a succeeding taxable year, will not in itself prevent such organization from meeting the requirements of subparagraph (3) of this paragraph for such succeeding taxable year.

(iv) Illustration. The application of subdivisions (i), (ii), and (iii) of this subparagraph may be illustrated by the following example:

Example. X, an organization described in section 170(c)(2), meets the 33⅓ percent-of-support test described in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph in taxable year 1975 on the basis of support received during taxable years 1971, 1972, 1973, and 1974. It therefore "normally" meets the requirements of subparagraph (2) of this paragraph for 1975 and 1976, the taxable year immediately succeeding 1975 (the current taxable year). For the taxable year 1976, X is unable to meet the 33⅓ percent-of-support test described in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph on the basis of support received during taxable years 1972, 1973, 1974, and 1975. If X can meet the requirements of subparagraph (3) of this paragraph on the basis of taxable years 1972, 1973, 1974, and 1975, X will meet the requirements of subparagraph (3) of this paragraph for 1977 (the taxable year immediately succeeding 1976, the current taxable year) under subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph. However, if on the basis of both the taxable years 1972 through 1975 and 1973 through 1976, X, fails to meet the requirements of both subparagraphs (2) and (3) of this paragraph, X will not be described in section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) for 1977. However, X will not be disqualified as a section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) organization for taxable year 1976, because it "normally" met the requirements of subparagraph (2) of this paragraph on the basis of the taxable years 1971 through 1974, unless the provisions of subdivision (v) of this subparagraph become applicable.

(v) Exception for material changes in sources of support.—(a) In general. If for the current taxable year there are substantial and material changes in an organization's sources of support other than changes arising from unusual grants excluded under subparagraph (6) (ii) of this paragraph, then in applying subparagraph (2) or (3) of this paragraph, neither the 4-year computation period applicable to such year as an immediately succeeding taxable year or as a current taxable year shall apply, and in lieu of such computation periods there shall be applied a computation period consisting of the taxable year of substantial and material changes and the 4 taxable years immediately preceding such year. Thus, for example, if there are substantial and material changes in an organization's sources of support for taxable year 1976, then even though such organization meets the requirements of subparagraph (2) or (3) of this paragraph based on a computation period of taxable years 1971–74 or 1972–75, such an organization will not meet the requirements of section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) unless it meets the requirements of subparagraph (2) or (3) of this paragraph for a computation period consisting of the taxable years 1972–76. See Example (3) in § 1.509(a)–3(c)(6) for an illustration of a similar rule. An example of a substantial and material change is the receipt of an unusually large contribution or bequest which does not qualify as an unusual grant under subparagraph (6)(ii) of this paragraph. See subparagraph (6)(iv)(b) of this paragraph as to the procedure for obtaining a ruling whether an unusually large grant may be excluded as an unusual grant.

(b) Status of grantors and contributors. If as a result of (a) of this subdivision, an organization is not able to meet the requirements of either the 33⅓ percent-of-support test described in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, or the facts and circumstances test described in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph for its current taxable year, its status (with respect to a grantor or contributor under sections 170, 507, 545(b)(2), 556(b)(2), 642(c), 4942, 4945, 2055, 2106(a)(2), and 2522) will not be affected until notice of change of status under section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) is made to the public (such as by publication in the Internal Revenue Bulletin). The preceding sentence shall not apply, however, if the grantor or contributor was responsible for, or was aware of, the substantial and material change referred to in (a) of this subdivision, or acquired knowledge that the Internal Revenue Service had given notice to such organization that it would be deleted from classification as a section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) organization.

(c) Reliance by grantors and contributors. A grantor or contributor, other than one of the organization's founders, creators, or foundation managers (within the meaning of section 4946(b)) will not be considered to be responsible for, or aware of, the substantial and material change referred to in (a) of this subdivision, if such grantor or contributor has made such grant or contribution in reliance upon a written statement by the grantee organization that such grant or contribution will not result in the loss of such organization's classification as a publicly supported organization as described in section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi). Such statement must be signed by a responsible officer of the grantee organization and must set forth sufficient information, including a summary of the pertinent financial data for the 4 preceding years, to assure a reasonably prudent man that his grant or contribution will not result in the loss of the grantee organization's classification as a publicly supported organization as described in section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi). If a reasonable doubt exists as to the effect of such grant or contribution, or if the grantor or contributor is one of the organizations' founders, creators, or foundation managers, the procedure set forth in subparagraph (6)(iv)(b) of this paragraph may be followed by the grantee organization for the protection of the grantor or contributor.

(vi) Special rule for new organizations. If an organization has been in existence for at least 1 taxable year consisting of at least 8 months, but for fewer than 5 taxable years, the number of years for which the organization has been in existence immediately preceding each current taxable year being tested will be substituted for the 4-year period described in subdivision (i) or (ii) of this subparagraph to determine whether the organization "normally" meets the requirements of subparagraph (2) or (3) of this paragraph. However, if subdivision (v)(a) of this subparagraph applies, then the period consisting of the number of years for which the organization has been in existence (up to and including the current year) will be substituted for the 4-year period described in subdivision (i) or (ii) of this subparagraph. An organization which has been in existence for at least 1 taxable year, consisting of 8 or more months, may be issued a ruling or determination letter if it "normally" meets the requirements of subparagraph (2) or (3) of this paragraph for the number of years described in this subdivision. Such an organization may apply for a ruling or determination letter under the provisions of this subparagraph, rather than under the provisions of subparagraph (5) of this paragraph. The issuance of a ruling or determination letter will be discretionary with the Commissioner. See subparagraph (5)(v) of this paragraph as to the initial determination of the status of a newly created organization. This subdivision shall not apply to those organizations receiving an extended advance ruling under subparagraph (5)(iv) of this paragraph.

(vii) Special rule for organizations with existing ruling. This subdivision shall apply to an organization that prior to January 1, 1970, had received a ruling or determination letter which has not been expressly revoked holding the organization to be a publicly supported organization described in section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) and with respect to which the facts and circumstances on which the ruling was based have not substantially changed. An organization to which this subdivision applies shall be treated as an organization described in section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) for a period not ending prior to 90 days after December 29, 1972. In addition, with respect to a grantor or contributor under sections 170, 507, 545(b)(2), 556(b)(2), 642(c), 4942, 4945, 2055, 2106(a)(2), and 2522, the status of an organization to which this subdivision applies will not be affected until notice of change of status under section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) is made to the public (such as by publication in the Internal Revenue Bulletin). The preceding sentence shall not apply if the grantor or contributor had previously acquired knowledge that the Internal Revenue Service had given notice to such organization that it would be deleted from classification as a section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) organization.

(viii) Termination of status. For the transitional rules applicable to an organization that is unable to meet the requirements of this paragraph for its first taxable year beginning after December 31, 1969 (as extended by § 1.507–2(j)) and wishes to terminate its private foundation status, see § 1.507–2(c)(2) and (3).

(ix) Status of ruling. The provisions of this subparagraph do not require an organization to file a new application with the Internal Revenue Service every 2 years in order to maintain or reaffirm its status as a "publicly supported" organization described in section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi).

(5) Advance rulings to newly created organizations.—(i) In general. A ruling or determination letter that an organization is described in section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) will not be issued to a newly created organization prior to the close of its first taxable year consisting of at least 8 months. However, such organization may request a ruling or determination letter that it will be treated as a section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) organization for its first 2 taxable years (or its first 3 taxable years, if its first taxable year consists of less than 8 months). For purposes of this section, such 2- or 3-year period, whichever is applicable, shall be referred to as the advance ruling period. Such an advance ruling or determination letter may be issued if the organization can reasonably be expected to meet the requirements of subparagraph (2) or (3) of this paragraph during the advance ruling period. The issuance of a ruling or determination letter will be discretionary with the Commissioner.

(ii) Basic consideration. In determining whether an organization can reasonably be expected (within the meaning of subdivision (i) of this subparagraph) to meet the requirements of subparagraph (2) or (3) of this paragraph for its advance ruling period or extended advance ruling period as provided in subdivision (iv) of this subparagraph, if applicable, the basic consideration is whether its organizational structure, proposed programs or activities, and intended method of operation are such as to attract the type of broadly based support from the general public, public charities, and governmental units which is necessary to meet such tests. The information to be considered for this purpose shall consist of all pertinent facts and circumstances relating to the requirements set forth in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph.

(iii) Status of newly created organizations—(a) Advance ruling. This subdivision shall apply to a newly created organization which has received an advance ruling or determination letter under subdivision (i) of this subparagraph, or an extended advance ruling or determination letter under subdivision (iv) of this subparagraph, that it will be treated as a section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) organization for its advance or extended advance ruling period. So long as such an organization's ruling or determination letter has not been terminated by the Commissioner before the expiration of the advance or extended advance ruling period, then whether or not such organization has satisfied the requirements of subparagraph (2) or (3) of this paragraph during such advance or extended advance ruling period, such an organization will be treated as an organization described in section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) in accordance with (b) and (c) of this subdivision, both for purposes of the organization and any grantor or contributor to such organization.

(b) Reliance period. Except as provided in (a) and (c) of this subdivision, an organization described in (a) of this subdivision will be treated as an organization described in section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) for all purposes other than sections 507(d) and 4940 for the period beginning with its inception and ending 90 days after its advance or extended advance ruling period. Such period will be extended until a final determination is made of such an organization's status only if the organization submits, within the 90-day period, information needed to determine whether it meets the requirements of subparagraph (2) or (3) of this paragraph for its advance or extended advance ruling period (even if such organization fails to meet the requirements of such subparagraph (2) or (3)). However, since this subparagraph does not apply to the tax imposed by section 4940, if it is subsequently determined that the organization was a private foundation from its inception, then the tax imposed by section 4940 shall be due without regard to the advance or extended advance ruling or determination letter. Consequently, if any amount of tax under section 4940 in such a case is not paid on or before the last date prescribed for payment, the organization is liable for interest in accordance with section 6601. However, since any failure to pay such tax during the period referred to in this subparagraph is due to reasonable cause, the penalty under section 6651 with respect to the tax imposed by section 4940 shall not apply.

(c) Grantors or contributors. If a ruling or determination letter is terminated by the Commissioner prior to the expiration of the period described in (b) of this subdivision, for purposes of sections 170, 507, 545(b)(2), 556(b)(2), 642(c), 4942, 4945, 2055, 2106(a)(2), and 2522, the status of grants or contributions with respect to grantors or contributors to such organizations will not be affected until notice of change of status of such organization is made to the public (such as by publication of the Internal Revenue Bulletin). The preceding sentence shall not apply however, if the grantor or contributor was responsible for, or aware of, the act or failure to act that resulted in the organization's loss of classification under section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) or acquired knowledge that the Internal Revenue Service had given notice to such organization that it would be deleted from such classification. Prior to the making of any grant or contribution which allegedly will not result in the grantee's loss of classification under section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi), a potential grantee organization may request a ruling whether such grant or contribution may be made without such loss of classification. A request for such ruling may be filed by the grantee organization with the district director. The issuance of such ruling will be at the sole discretion of the Commissioner. The organization must submit all information necessary to make a determination on the factors referred to in subparagraph (6)(iii) of this paragraph. If a favorable ruling is issued, such ruling may be relied upon by the grantor or contributor of the particular contribution in question for purposes of sections 170, 507, 545(b)(2), 556(b)(2), 642(c), 4942, 4945, 2055, 2106(a)(2), and 2522 and by the grantee organization for purposes of subparagraph (6)(ii) of this paragraph.

(iv) Extension of advance ruling period. (a) The advance ruling period described in subdivision (i) of this subparagraph shall be extended for a period of 3 taxable years after the close of the unextended advance ruling period if the organization so requests, but only if such organization's request accompanies its request for an advance ruling and is filed with a consent under section 6501(c)(4) to the effect that the period of limitation upon assessment under section 4940 for any taxable year within the extended advance ruling period shall not expire prior to 1 year after the date of the expiration of the time prescribed by law for the assessment of a deficiency for the last taxable year within the extended advance ruling period. An organization's extended advance ruling period is 5 taxable years if its first taxable year consists of at least 8 months, or is 6 years if its first taxable year is less than 8 months.

(b) Notwithstanding (a) of this subdivision, an organization which has received or applied for an advance ruling prior to January 29, 1973, may file its request for the 3-year extension within 90 days from such date, but only if it files the consents required in this section.

(c) See subdivision (v) of this subparagraph for the effect upon the initial determination of status of an organization which receives a ruling for an extended advance ruling period.

(v) Initial determination of status. (a) The initial determination of status of a newly created organization is the first determination (other than by issuance of an advance ruling or determination letter under subdivision (i) of this subparagraph or an extended advance ruling or determination letter under subdivision (iv) of this subparagraph) that the organization will be considered as "normally" meeting the requirements of subparagraphs (2) or (3) of this paragraph for a period beginning with its first taxable year.

(b) In the case of a new organization whose first taxable year is at least 8 months, except as provided for in subdivision (v)(d) of this subparagraph, the initial determination of status shall be based on a computation period of either the first taxable year or the first and second taxable years.

(c) In the case of a new organization whose first taxable year is less than 8 taxable months, except as provided for in subdivision (v)(d) of this subparagraph, the initial determination of status shall be based on a computation period of either the first and second taxable years or the first, second, and third taxable years.

(d) In the case of an organization which has received a ruling or determination letter for an extended advance ruling period under subdivision (iv) of this subparagraph, the initial determination of status shall be based on a computation period of all of the taxable years in the extended advance ruling period. However, where the ruling or determination letter for an extended advance ruling period under subdivision (iv) of this subparagraph is terminated by the Commissioner prior to the expiration of the relevant period described in subdivision (iii)(b) of this subparagraph, the initial determination of status shall be based on a computation period of the period provided in (b) or (c) of this subdivision or, if greater, the number of years to which the advance ruling applies.

(e) An initial determination that an organization will be considered as "normally" meeting the requirements of subparagraph (2) or (3) of this paragraph shall be effective for each taxable year in the computation period plus (except as provided by subpargaraph (4)(v)(a) of this paragraph, relating to material changes in sources of support) the 2 taxable years immediately succeeding the computation period. Therefore, in the case of an organization referred to in

(b) of this subdivision to which subparagraph (4)(v)(a) of this paragraph does not apply, with respect to its first, second, and third taxable years, such an organization shall be described in section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) if it meets the requirements of subparagraph (2) or (3) of this paragraph for either its first taxable year or for its first and second taxable years on an aggregate basis. In addition, if it meets the requirements of subparagraph (2) or (3) of this paragraph for its first and second taxable years, it shall be described in section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) for its fourth taxable year. Once an organization is considered as "normally" meeting the requirements of subparagraph (2) or (3) of this paragraph for a period specified under this subdivision, subparagraph (4)(i), (ii), (v), or (vi) of this paragraph shall apply.

(f) The provisions of this subdivision may be illustrated by the following examples:

Example (1). X, a calendar year organization described in section 501(c)(3), is created in February 1972. The support received from the public in 1972 by X will satisfy the one-third support test described in subparagraph (4)(i) of this paragraph over its first taxable year, 1972. X may therefore get an initial determination that it meets the requirements of subparagraph (2) of this paragraph for its first taxable year beginning in February 1972 and ending on December 31, 1972. This determination will be effective for taxable years 1972, 1973, and 1974.

Example (2). Assume the same facts as in example (1) except that X also receives a substantial contribution from one individual in 1972 which is not excluded from the denominator of the one-third support fraction described in subparagraph (4)(i) of this paragraph by reason of the unusual grant provision of subparagraph (6)(ii) of this paragraph. Because of this substantial contribution, X fails to satisfy the one-third support test over its first taxable year, 1972. X also fails to satisfy the "facts and circumstances" test described in subparagraph (4)(ii) of this paragraph for it's first taxable year, 1972. However, the support received from the public over X's first and second taxable years in the aggregate will satisfy the one-third support test. X may therefore get an initial determination that it meets the requirements of subparagraph (2) of this paragraph for its first and second taxable years in the aggregate beginning in February 1972 and ending on December 31, 1973. This determination will be effective for taxable years 1972, 1973, 1974, and 1975.

Example (3). Y, a calendar year organization described in section 501(c)(3), is created in July 1972. Y requests and receives an extended advance ruling period of 5 full taxable years plus its initial short taxable year of 6 months under subparagraph (5)(iv) of this paragraph. The extended advance ruling period begins in July 1972 and ends on December 31, 1977. The support received from the public over Y's first through sixth taxable years in the aggregate will satisfy the one-third support test described in subparagraph (4)(i) of this paragraph. Therefore, Y in 1978 may get an initial determination that it meets the requirements of subparagraph (2) of this paragraph in the aggregate over all the taxable years in its extended advance ruling period beginning in July 1972 and ending on December 31, 1977. This determination will be effective for taxable years 1972 through 1979.

Example (4). Assume the same facts as in example (3) except that the ruling for the extended advance ruling period is terminated prospectively at the end of 1975, so that Y many not rely upon such ruling for 1976 or any succeeding year. The support received from the public over Y's first through fourth taxable years (1972 through 1975) will not satisfy either the one-third support test described in subparagraph (4)(i) of this paragraph, or the "facts and circumstances" test described in subparagraph (4)(ii) of this paragraph. Because the ruling was terminated the computation period for Y's initial determination of status is the period 1972 through 1975. Since Y has not met the requirements of either subparagraph (2) or (3) of this paragraph for such computation period, Y is not described in section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) for purposes of its initial determination of status. If Y is not described in section 170(b)(1)(A)(i) through (v) or section 509(a)(2), (3), or (4), then Y is a private foundation. As of 1976, Y shall be treated as a private foundation for all purposes (except as provided in subdivision (iii)(c) of this subparagraph with respect to grantors and contributors), and as of July 1972 for purposes of the tax imposed by section 4940 and for purposes of section 507(d) (relating to aggregate tax benefit).

(vi) Failure to obtain advance ruling. (a) Unless a newly created organization has obtained an advance ruling or determination letter under subdivision (i) of this subparagraph, or an extended advance ruling or determination letter under subdivision (iv) of this subparagraph, that it will be treated as a section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) organization for its advance or extended advance ruling period, it cannot rely upon the possibility it will meet the requirements of subparagraph (2) or (3) of this paragraph for a taxable year which begins before the close of either applicable computation period provided for in subdivision (v)(b) or (c) of this subparagraph. Therefore, such an organization, in order to avoid the risk of subsequently being determined to be a private foundation because of failure to qualify under section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) and therefore under section 509(a)(1), may comply with the rules applicable to private foundations and may pay, for example, the tax imposed by section 4940. In that event, if the organization subsequently meets the requirements of subparagraph (2) or (3) of this paragraph for either applicable computation period, it shall be treated as a section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) organization from its inception and, therefore, any tax imposed under chapter 42 shall be refunded and section 509(b) shall not apply.

(b) If a newly created organization fails to obtain an advance ruling or determination letter under subdivision (i) of this subparagraph, or an extended advance ruling or determination letter under subdivision (iv) of this subparagraph, and fails to meet the requirements of subparagraph (2) or (3) of this paragraph for the first applicable computation period provided for in subdivision (v)(b) or (c) of this subparagraph, see section 6651 for penalty for failure to file return and pay tax.

(6) Definition of support; meaning of general public—(i) In general. In determining whether the 33⅓ percent-of-support test described in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph or the 10 percent-of-support limitation described in subparagraph (3)(i) of this paragraph is "normally" met, contributions by an individual, trust; or corporation shall be taken into account as "support" from direct or indirect contributions from the general public only to the extent that the total amount of the contributions by any such individual, trust, or corporation during the period described in subparagraph (4)(i), (ii), (v), or (vi) or (5)(v) of this paragraph does not exceed 2 percent of the organization's total support for such period, except as provided in subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph. Therefore, any contribution by one individual will be included in full in the denominator of the fraction determining the 33⅓ percent-of-support or the 10 percent-of-support limitation, but will only be includible in the numerator of such fraction to the extent that such amount does not exceed 2 percent of the denominator. In applying the 2 percent limitation, all contributions made by a donor and by any person or persons standing in a relationship to the donor which is described in section 4946(a)(1)(C) through (G) and the regulations thereunder shall be treated as made by one person. The 2 percent limitation shall not apply to support received from governmental units referred to in section 170(c)(1) or to contributions from organizations described in section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi), except as provided in subdivision (v) of this subparagraph. For purposes of subparagraphs (2), (3)(i) and (7)(ii)(b) of this paragraph, the term "indirect contributions from the general public" includes contributions received by the organization from organizations (such as section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) organizations) which normally receive a substantial part of their support from direct contributions from the general public, except as provided in subdivision (v) of this subparagraph. See the examples in subparagraph (9) of this paragraph for the application of this subdivision.

(ii) Exclusion of unusual grants. For purposes of applying the 2 percent limitation described in subdivision (i) of this subparagraph to determine whether the 33⅓ percent-of-support test in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph or the 10 percent-of-support limitation in subparagraph (3)(i) of this paragraph is satisfied, one or more contributions may be excluded from both the numerator and the denominator of the applicable percent-of-support fraction if such contributions meet the requirements of subdivision (iii) of this subparagraph. The exclusion provided by this subdivision is generally intended to apply to substantial contributions or bequests from distinterested parties which contributions or bequests:

V 38-1 JAN 3 73 XUM

(a) Are attracted by reason of the publicly supported nature of the organization;

(b) Are unusual or unexpected with respect to the amount thereof; and

(c) Would, by reason of their size, adversely affect the status of the organization as normally being publicly supported for the applicable period described in subparagraph (4) or (5) of this paragraph.

In the case of a grant (as defined in § 1.509(a)–3(g)) which meets the requirements of this subdivision, if the terms of the granting instrument (whether executed before or after 1969) require that the funds be paid to the recipient organization over a period of years, the amount received by the organization each year pursuant to the terms of such grant may be excluded for such year. However, no item of gross investment income may be excluded under this subparagraph. The provisions of this subparagraph shall apply to exclude unusual grants made during any of the applicable periods described in subparagraph (4), (5), or (6) of this paragraph. See subdivision (iv) of this subparagraph as to reliance by a grantee organization upon an unusual grant ruling under this subparagraph.

(iii) Determining factors. In determining whether a particular contribution may be excluded under subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph all pertinent facts and circumstances will be taken into consideration. No single factor will necessarily be determinative. For some of the factors similar to the factors to be considered, see § 1.509(a)–3(c)(4).

(iv) Grantors and contributors. (a) As to the status of grants and contributions which result in substantial and material changes in the organization (as described in subparagraph (4)(v)(a) of this paragraph) and which fail to meet the requirements for exclusion under subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph, see the rules prescribed in subparagraph (4)(v)(b) and (c) of this paragraph.

(b) Prior to the making of any grant or contribution which will allegedly meet the requirements for exclusion under subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph, a potential grantee organization may request a ruling whether such grant or contribution may be so excluded. Requests for such ruling may be filed by the grantee organization with the district director. The issuance of such ruling will be at the sole discretion of the Commissioner. The organization must submit all information necessary to make a determination on the factors referred to in subdivision (iii) of this subparagraph. If a favorable ruling is issued, such ruling may be relied upon by the grantor or contributor of the particular contribution in question for purposes of sections 170, 507, 545(b)(2), 556(b)(2), 642(c), 4942, 4945, 2055, 2106(a)(2), and 2522 and by the grantee organization for purposes of subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph.

(v) Grants from public charities. Pursuant to subdivision (i) of this subparagraph, contributions received from a governmental unit or from a section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) organization are not subject to the 2 percent limitation described in that subdivision unless such contributions represent amounts which have been expressly or impliedly earmarked by a donor to such governmental unit or section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) organization as being for, or for the benefit of, the particular organization claiming section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) status. See § 1.509(a)–3(j)(3) for examples illustrating the rules of this subdivision.

(7) Definition of support; special rules and meaning of terms—(i) Definition of support. For purposes of this paragraph, the term "support" shall be as defined in section 509(d) (without regard to section 509(d)(2)). The term "support" does not include:

(a) Any amounts received from the exercise or performance by an organization of its charitable, educational, or other purpose or function constituting the basis for its exemption under section 501(a). In general, such amounts include amounts received from any activity the conduct of which is substantially related to the furtherance of such purpose or function (other than through the production of income), or

(b) Contributions of services for which a deduction is not allowable.

For purposes of the 33⅓ percent-of-support test in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph and the 10 percent-of-support limitation in subparagraph (3)(i) of this paragraph, all amounts received which are described in (a) or (b) of this division are to be excluded from both the numerator and the denominator of the fractions determining compliance with such tests, except as provided in subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph.

(ii) Organizations dependent primarily on gross receipts from related activities. Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision (i) of this subparagraph, an organization will not be treated as satisfying the 33⅓ percent-of-support test in subparagraph (3)(i) of this paragraph if the 10 percent-of-support limitation in subparagraph (3)(i) of this paragraph if it receives:

(a) Almost all of its support (as defined in section 509(d)) from gross receipts from related activities; and

(b) An insignificant amount of its support from governmental units (without regard to amounts referred to in subdivision (i)(a) of this subparagraph) and contributions made directly or indirectly by the general public.

For example X, an organization described in section 501(c)(3), is controlled by A, its president. X received $500,000 during the 4 taxable years immediately preceding its current taxable year under a contract with the Department of Transportation, pursuant to which X has engaged in research to improve a particular vehicle used primarily by the Federal Government. During this same period, the only other support received by X consisted of $5,000 in small contributions primarily from X's employees and business associates. The $500,000 amount constitutes support under section 509(d)(2) and 509(d)(2)(a) of this subdivision. Under these circumstances, X meets the conditions of (a) and (b) of this subdivision and will not be treated as meeting the requirements of either subparagraph (2) or subparagraph (3) of this paragraph. As to the rules applicable to organizations which fail to qualify under section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) because of the provisions of this subdivision, see section 509(a)(2) and the regulations thereunder. For the distinction between gross receipts (as referred to in section 509(d)(2)) and gross investment income (as referred to in section 509(d)(4)), see § 1.509(a)–3(m).

(iii) Membership fees. For purposes of this subparagraph, the term "support" shall include "membership fees" within the meaning of § 1.509(a)–3(h) (that is, if the basic purpose for making a payment is to provide support for the organization rather than to purchase admissions, merchandise, services, or the use of facilities).

(8) Support from a governmental unit. (i) For purposes of subparagraphs (2) and (3)(i) of this paragraph, the term "support from a governmental unit" includes any amounts received from a governmental unit, including donations or contributions and amounts received in connection with a contract entered into with a governmental unit for the performance of services or in connection with a Government research grant. However, such amounts will not constitute "support from a governmental unit" for such purposes if they constitute amounts received from the exercise or performance of the organization's exempt functions as provided in subparagraph (7)(i)(a) of this paragraph.

(ii) For purposes of subdivision (i) of this subparagraph, any amount paid by a governmental unit to an organization is not to be treated as received from the exercise or performance of its charitable, educational, or other purpose or function constituting the basis for its exemption under section 501(a) (within the meaning of subparagraph (7)(i)(a) of this paragraph) if the purpose of the payment is primarily to enable the organization to provide a service to, or maintain a facility for, the direct benefit of the public (regardless of whether part of the expense of providing such service or facility is paid for by the public), rather than to serve the direct and immediate needs of the payor. For example:

(a) Amounts paid for the maintenance of library facilities which are open to the public.

(b) Amounts paid under Government programs to nursing homes or homes for the aged in order to provide health care or domiciliary services to residents of such facilities, and

(c) Amounts paid to child placement or child guidance organizations under Government programs for services rendered to children in the community, are considered payments the purpose of which is primarily to enable the recipient organization to provide a service or maintain a facility for the direct benefit of the public, rather than to serve the direct and immediate needs of the payor. Furthermore, any amount received from a governmental unit under circumstances such that the amount would be treated as a "grant" within the meaning of § 1.509(a)–3(g) will generally constitute "support from a governmental unit" described in this subdivision, rather than an amount described in subparagraph (7)(i)(a) of this paragraph.

(9) Examples. The application of subparagraphs (1) through (8) of this paragraph may be illustrated by the following examples:

Example (1). (a) M is an organization referred to in section 170(c)(2). For the years 1970 through 1973 (the applicable period with respect to the taxable year 1974 under subparagraph (4) of this paragraph), M received support (as defined in subparagraphs (6) through (8) of this paragraph) of $600,000 from the following sources:

Investment Income	$300,000
City Y (a governmental unit referred to in section 170(c)(1))	40,000
United Fund (an organization referred to in section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi)	40,000
Contributions	220,000
Total Support	600,000

(b) With respect to the taxable year 1974, M "normally" received in excess of 33⅓ percent of its support from a governmental unit referred to in section 170(c)(1) and from direct and indirect contributions from the general public (as defined in subparagraph (6) of this paragraph) computed as follows:

33⅓ percent of total support	$200,000
Support from a governmental unit referred to in section 170(c)(1)	40,000
Indirect contributions from the general public (United Fund)	40,000
Contributions by various donors (no one having made contributions which total in excess of $12,000—2 percent of total support)	50,000
Six contributions (each in excess of $12,000—2 percent total support) 6×$12,000	72,000
	202,000

(c) Since the amount of X's support from governmental units referred to in section 170(c)(1) and from direct and indirect contributions from the general public with respect to the taxable year 1974 "normally" exceeds 33⅓ percent of M's total support for the applicable period (1970–73), X meets the 33⅓ percent-of-support test under subparagraph (2) of this paragraph and is therefore treated as satisfying the requirements for classification as a "publicly supported" organization under subparagraph (2) of this paragraph for the taxable years 1974 and 1975 (there being no substantial and material changes in the organization's character, purposes, methods of operation, or sources of support in these years).

Example (2). N is an organization referred to in section 170(c)(2). It was created to maintain public gardens containing botanical specimens and displaying statuary and other art objects. The facilities, works of art, and a large endowment were all contributed by a single contributor. The members of the governing body of the organization are unrelated to its creator. The gardens are open to the public without charge and attract a substantial number of visitors each year. For the 4 taxable years immediately preceding the current taxable year, 95 percent of the organization's total support was received from investment income from its original endowment. N also maintains a membership society which is supported by members of the general public who wish to contribute to the upkeep of the gardens by paying a small annual membership fee. Over the 4-year period in question, these fees from the general public constituted the remaining 5 percent of the organization's total support for such period. Under these circumstances, N does not meet the 33⅓ percent-of-support test under subparagraph (2) of this paragraph for its current taxable year. Furthermore, since only 5 percent of its total support is, with respect to the current taxable year, normally received from the general public, N does not satisfy the 10 percent-of-support limitation described in subparagraph (3)(i) of this paragraph and cannot therefore be classified as "publicly supported" under subparagraph (3) of this paragraph. For its current taxable year, N therefore, is not an organization described in section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi). Since N has failed to satisfy the 10 percent-of-suport limitation under subparagraph (3)(i) of this paragraph, none of the other requirements or factors set forth in subparagraph (3)(iii) through (vii) of this paragraph can be considered in determining whether N qualifies as a "publicly supported" organization.

Example (3). (a) O, an art museum, is an organization referred to in section 170(c)(2). In 1930, O was founded in Y City by the members of a single family to collect, preserve, interpret, and display to the public important works of art. O is governed by a Board of Trustees which originally consisted almost entirely of members of the founding family. However, since 1945, members of the founding family or persons standing in a relationship to the members of such family described in section 4946(a)(1)(C) through (G) have annually constituted less than one-fifth of the Board of Trustees. The remaining board members are citizens of Y City from a variety of professions and occupations who represent the interests and views of the people of Y City in the activities carried on by the organization rather than the personal or private interests of the founding family. O solicits contributions from the general public and for each of its 4 most recent taxable years has received total contributions (in small sums of less than $100, none of which exceeds 2 percent of O's total support for such period) in excess of $10,000. These contributions from the general public (as defined in subparagraph (6) of this paragraph) represent 25 percent of the organization's total support for such 4-year period. For this same period, investment income from several large endowment funds has constituted 75 percent of its total support. O expends substantially all of its annual income for its exempt purposes and thus depends upon the funds it annually solicits from the public as well as its investment income in order to carry out its activities on a normal and continuing basis and to acquire new works of art. O has, for the entire period of its existence, been open to the public and more than 300,000 people (from Y City and elsewhere) have visited the museum in each of its four most recent taxable years.

(b) Under these circumstances, O does not meet the 33⅓ percent-of-support test under subparagraph (2) of this paragraph for its current year since it has received only 25 percent of its total support for the applicable 4-year period from the general public. However, under the facts set forth above, O has met the 10 percent-of-support limitation under subparagraph (3)(i), as well as the requirements of subparagraph (3)(ii), of this paragraph. Under all of the facts set forth in this example, O is considered as meeting the requirements of subparagraph (3) of this paragraph on the basis of satisfying subparagraph (3)(i) and (ii) of this paragraph and the factors set forth in subparagraph (3)(iii), (iv), (v), and (vi) of this paragraph, and is therefore classified as a "publicly supported organization" under subparagraph (1) of this paragraph for its current taxable year and the immediately succeeding taxable year (there being no substantial and material changes in the organization's character, purposes, methods of operation, or sources of support in these years).

Example (4). (a) In 1960, the P Philharmonic Orchestra was organized in Z City through the combined efforts of a local music society and a local women's club to present to the public a wide variety of musical programs intended to foster music appreciation in the community. P is an organization referred to in section 170(c)(2). The orchestra is composed of professional musicians who are paid by the association. Twelve performances open to the public are scheduled each year. A small admission charge is made for each of these performances. In addition, several performances are staged annually without charge. During its 4 most recent taxable years, P has received separate contributions of $200,000 each from A and B (not members of a single family) and support of $120,000 from the Z Community Chest, a public federated fundraising organization operating in Z City. P depends on these funds in order to carry out its activities and will continue to depend on contributions of this type to be made in the future. P has also begun a fundraising campaign in an attempt to expand its activities for the coming years. P is governed by a Board of Directors comprised of five individuals. A faculty member of a local college, the president of a local music society, the head of a local banking institution, a prominent doctor, and a member of the governing body of the local chamber of commerce currently serve on the Board and represent the interests and views of the community in the activities carried on by P.

(b) With respect to P's current taxable year, P's sources of support are computed on the basis of the 4 immediately preceding years, as follows:

Contributions	$520,000
Receipts from performances	100,000
Total support	620,000
Less:
Receipts from performances (excluded under subparagraph (7)(i)(a) of this paragraph)	100,000
Total support for purposes of subparagraphs (2) and (3)(i) of this paragraph	520,000

(c) For purposes of subparagraphs (2) and (3)(i) of this paragraph, P's support is computed as follows:

Z Community Chest (indirect support from the general public)	120,000
Two contributions (each in excess of $10,400—2 percent of total support) 2×$10,400	20,800
Total	140,800

(d) P's support from the general public, directly and indirectly, does not meet the 33⅓ percent-of-support test under subparagraph (2) of this paragraph ($140,800/$520,000=27 percent of total support). However, since P receives 27 percent of its total support from the general public, it meets the 10 percent-of-support limitation under subparagraph (3)(i) of this paragraph. P also meets the requirements of subparagraph (3) (ii) of this paragraph. As a result of satisfying these requirements and the factors set forth in subparagraph (3) (iii), (iv), (v), and (vi) of this paragraph, P is considered as meeting the requirements of subparagraph (3) of this paragraph and is therefore considered to be a "publicly supported" organization under subparagraph (1) of this paragraph.

(e) If, instead of the above facts, P were a newly created organization, P could obtain a ruling pursuant to subparagraph (5) of this paragraph by reason of its purposes, organizational structure and proposed method of operation. Even if P had initially been founded by the contributions of a few individuals, such fact would not, in and of itself, disqualify P from receiving a ruling under subparagraph (5) of this paragraph.

Example (5). (a) Q is an organization referred to in section 170(c)(2). It is a philanthropic organization founded in 1965 by A for the purpose of making annual contributions to worthy charities. A created Q as a charitable trust by the transfer of $500,000 worth of appreciated securities to Q.

Pursuant to the trust agreement, A and two other members of his family are the sole trustees and are vested with the right to appoint successor trustees. In each of its four most recent taxable years, Q received $15,000 in investment income from its original endowment. Each year Q makes a solicitation for funds by operating a charity ball at A's residence. Guests are invited and requested to make contributions of $100 per couple. During the 4-year period involved, $15,000 was received from the proceeds of these events. A and his family have also made contributions to Q of $25,000 over the course of the organization's 4 most recent taxable years. Q makes disbursements each year of substantially all of its net income to the public charities chosen by the trustees.

(b) With respect to Q's current taxable year, Q's sources of support are computed on the basis of the 4 immediately preceding years as follows:

Investment income	$60,000
Contributions	40,000
Total support	100,000

(c) For purposes of subparagraphs (2) and (3)(i) of this paragraph, Q's support is computed as follows:

Contributions from the general public	$15,000
One contribution (in excess of $2,000—2 percent of total support) 1×$2,000	2,000
Total	17,000

(d) Q's support from the general public does not meet the 33⅓ percent-of-support test under subparagraph (2) of this paragraph ($17,000/$100,000=17 percent of total support). Thus, Q's classification as a "publicly supported" organization depends on whether it meets the requirements of subparagraph (3) of this paragraph. Even though it satisfies the 10 percent-of-support limitation under subparagraph (3)(i) of this paragraph, its method of solicitation makes it questionable whether Q satisfies the requirements of subparagraph (3)(ii) of this paragraph. Because of its method of operating, Q also has a greater burden of establishing its publicly supported nature under subparagraph (3)(iii) of this paragraph. Based upon the foregoing and upon Q's failure to receive favorable consideration under the factors set forth in subparagraph (3) (iv), (v), and (vi) of this paragraph, Q does not satisfy the requirements of subparagraph (3) of this paragraph as a "publicly supported" organization.

(e) If, instead of the above facts, Q were a newly created organization, Q would not be able to receive a ruling pursuant to subparagraph (5) of this paragraph. Its purposes, organizational structure, and method of operation would be insufficient to establish that Q could reasonably be expected to meet the requirements of subparagraph (2) or (3) of this paragraph for its first 2 or its first 5 taxable years.

(10) Community trusts; general rules. [Reserved]

(f) Private operating foundation. An organization is described in section 170(b)(1)(A)(vii) and (E)(i) if it is a private "operating foundation" as defined in section 4942(j)(3) and the regulations thereunder.

(g) Private nonoperating foundation distributing amount equal to all contributions received—(1) In general. (i) An organization is described in section 170(b)(1)(A)(vii) and (E)(ii) if it is a private foundation which, not later than the 15th day of the third month after the close of its taxable year in which any contributions are received, distributes an amount equal in value to 100 percent of all contributions received in such year. Such distributions must be qualifying distributions (as defined in section 4942(g) without regard to paragraph (3) thereof) which are treated, after the application of section 4942(g)(3), as distributions out of corpus in accordance with section 4942(h). Qualifying distributions, as defined in section 4942(g) without regard to paragraph (3) thereof, cannot be made to (i) an organization controlled directly or indirectly by the foundation or by one or more disqualified persons (as defined in section 4946) with respect to the foundation or (ii) a private foundation which is not an operating foundation (as defined in section 4942(j)(3)). The phrase "after the application of section 4942(g)(3)" means that every contribution described in section 4942(g)(3) received by a private foundation described in this subparagraph in a particular taxable year must be distributed (within the meaning of section 4942(g)(3)(A)) by such foundation not later than the 15th day of the third month after the close of such taxable year in order for any other distribution by such foundation to be counted toward the 100-percent requirement described in this subparagraph.

(ii) In order for an organization to meet the distribution requirements of subdivision (i) of this subparagraph, it must, not later than the 15th day of the third month after the close of its taxable year in which any contributions are received, distribute (within the meaning of subdivision (i) of this subparagraph) an amount equal in value to 100 percent of all contributions received in such year and have no remaining undistributed income for such year.

(iii) The provisions of this subparagraph may be illustrated by the following examples:

Example (1). X is a private foundation on a calendar year basis. As of January 1, 1971, X had no undistributed income for 1970. X's distributable amount for 1971 was $600,000. In July 1971, A, an individual, contributed $500,000 (fair market value determined at the time of the contribution) of appreciated property to X (which, if sold, would give rise to long-term capital gain). X did not receive any other contribution in either 1970 or 1971. During 1971, X made qualifying distributions of $700,000 which were treated as made out of the undistributed income for 1971 and $100,000 out of corpus. X will meet the requirements of section 170(b)(1)(E)(ii) for 1971 if it makes additional qualifying distributions of $400,000 out of corpus by March 15, 1972.

Example (2). Assume the facts as stated in Example (1), except that as of January 1, 1971, X had $100,000 of undistributed income for 1970. Under these circumstances, the $700,000 distributed by X in 1971 would be treated as made out of the undistributed income for 1970 and 1971. X would therefore have to make additional qualifying distributions of $500,000 out of corpus between January 1, 1972, and March 15, 1972, in order to meet the requirements of section 170(b)(1)(E)(ii) for 1971.

(2) Special rules. In applying subparagraph (1) of this paragraph—

(i) For purposes of section 170(b)(1)(A)(vii), an organization described in section 170(b)(1)(E)(ii) must distribute all contributions received in any year, whether of cash or property. However, solely for purposes of section 170(e)(1)(B)(ii), an organization described in section 170(b)(1)(E)(ii) is required to distribute all contributions of property only received in any year. Contributions for purposes of this paragraph do not include bequests, legacies, devises, or transfers within the meaning of section 2055 or 2106(a)(2) with respect to which a deduction was not allowed under section 170.

(ii) Any distributions made by a private foundation pursuant to subparagraph (1) of this paragraph with respect to a particular taxable year shall be treated as made first out of contributions of property and then out of contributions of cash received by such foundation in such year.

(iii) A private foundation is not required to trace specific contributions of property, or amounts into which such contributions are converted, to specific distributions.

(iv) The fair market value of contributed property, determined on the date of the contribution, is required to be used for purposes of determining whether an amount equal in value to 100 percent of the contributions received has been distributed.

(v) A private foundation may satisfy the requirements of subparagraph (1) of this paragraph for a particular taxable year by electing (pursuant to section 4942(h)(2) and the regulations thereunder) to treat a portion or all of one or more distributions, made not later than the 15th day of the third month after the close of such year, as made out of corpus.

(3) Transitional rules—(i) Taxable years beginning before January 1, 1970, and ending after December 31, 1969. In order for an organization to meet the distribution requirements of subparagraph (1)(i) of this paragraph for a taxable year which begins before January 1, 1970, and ends after December 31, 1969, it must, not later than the 15th day of the third month after the close of such taxable year, distribute (within the meaning of subparagraph (1)(i) of this paragraph) an amount equal in value to 100 percent of all contributions (other than contributions described in section 4942(g)(3)) which were received between January 1, 1970, and the last day of such taxable year. Because the organization is not subject to the provisions of section 4942 for such year, the organization need not satisfy subparagraph (1)(ii) of this paragraph or the phrase "after the application of section 4942(g)(3)" for such year.

(ii) Extension of period. For purposes of section 170(b)(1)(A)(vii) and 170(e)(1)(B)(ii), in the case of a taxable year ending in either 1970, 1971 or 1972, the period referred to in section 170(b)(1)(E)(ii) for making distributions shall not expire before April 2, 1973.

(4) Adequate records required. A taxpayer claiming a deduction under section 170 for a charitable contribution to a foundation described in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph must obtain adequate records or other sufficient evidence from such foundation showing that the foundation made the required qualifying distributions within the time prescribed. Such records or other evidence must be attached to the taxpayer's return for the taxable year for which the charitable contribution deduction is claimed. If necessary, an amended income tax return or claim for refund may be filed in accordance with § 301.6402-2 and § 301.6402-3 of this chapter (procedure and administration regulations).

(h) Private foundation maintaining a common fund—(1) Designation by substantial contributors. An organization is described in section 170(b)(1)(A)(vii) and (E)(iii) if it is a private foundation all of the contributions to which are pooled in a common fund and which would be described in section 509(a)(3) but for the right of any donor who is a substantial contributor or his spouse to designate annually the recipients, from among public charities, of the income attributable to the donor's contribution to the fund and to direct (by deed or by will) the payment, to public charities, of the corpus in the common fund attributable to the donor's contribution. For purposes of this paragraph, the private foundation is to be treated as meeting the requirements of section 509(a)(3)(A) and (B) even though donors to the foundation, or their spouses, retain the right to, and in fact do, designate public charities to receive income or corpus from the fund.

(2) Distribution requirements. To qualify under subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, the private foundation described therein must be required by its governing instrument to distribute, and it must in fact distribute (including administrative expenses)—

(i) All of the adjusted net income (as defined in section 4942(f)) of the common fund to one or more public charities not later than the 15th day of the third month after the close of the taxable year in which such income is realized by the fund, and

(ii) All the corpus attributable to any donor's contribution to the fund to one or more public charities not later than 1 year after the donor's death or after the death of the donor's surviving spouse if such surviving spouse has the right to designate the recipients of such corpus.

(3) Failure to designate. A private foundation will not fail to qualify under this paragraph merely because a substantial contributor or his spouse fails to exercise his right to designate the recipients of income or corpus of the fund, provided that the income and corpus attributable to his contribution are distributed as required by subparagraph (2) of this paragraph.

(4) Definitions. For purposes of this paragraph—

(i) The term "substantial contributor" is as defined in section 507(d)(2) and the regulations thereunder.

(ii) The term "public charity" means an organization described in section 170(b)(1)(A) (i) through (vi). If an organization is described in section 170(b)(1)(A) (i) through (vi), and is also described in section 170(b)(1)(A)(viii), it shall be treated as a public charity for purposes of this paragraph.

(iii) The term "income attributable to" means the income earned by the fund which is properly allocable to the contributed amount by any reasonable and consistently applied method. See, for example, § 1.642(c)-5(c).

(iv) The term "corpus attributable to" means the portion of the corpus of the fund attributable to the contributed amount. Such portion may be determined by any reasonable and consistently applied method.

(v) The term "donor" means any individual who makes a contribution (whether of cash or property) to the private foundation, whether or not such individual is a substantial contributor.

(vi) Section 509(a)(2) or (3) organization. An organization is described in section 170(b)(1)(A)(viii) if it is described in section 509(a)(2) or (3) and the regulations thereunder.

PART 1—INCOME TAX; TAXABLE YEARS BEGINNING AFTER DECEMBER 31, 1953

Deposit of Taxes Withheld

On December 5, 1972, notice of proposed rule making with respect to the amendment of the Income Tax Regulations (26 CFR Part 1) to conform the rules for the deposit of taxes withheld under Chapter 3 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 to those presently in effect for taxes withheld under chapter 24 of the Code was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (37 F.R. 25847). After consideration of all such relevant matter as was presented by interested persons regarding the rules proposed, the amendment of the regulations as proposed is hereby adopted.

(Sec. 7805 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, 68A Stat. 917; 26 U.S.C. 7805)

[SEAL] JOHNNIE M. WALTERS,
Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Approved: December 26, 1972

FREDERICK W. HICKMAN,
Assistant Secretary of the Treasury.

In order to conform the rules for the deposit of taxes withheld under Chapter 3 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 to those presently in effect for taxes withheld under chapter 24 of the Code, the Income Tax Regulations (26 CFR Part 1) under sections 1461 and 6302 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 are amended to provide new rules for payments or deposits of tax deposited under chapter 3 of the Code on or after January 1, 1973, as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. Paragraph (a) of § 1.1461-3 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.1461-3 Payment of withheld tax.

(a) Payments of tax—(1) Quarterly payments—(i) Years prior to 1973. Every withholding agent who, pursuant to chapter 3 of the Code, withholds tax during any calendar quarter beginning after December 31, 1966, and ending on or before December 31, 1972, shall, to the extent such amounts have not been deposited pursuant to § 1.6302-2 with a Federal Reserve bank or an authorized commercial bank, pay such withheld tax to the Director, Internal Revenue Service Center, 11601 Roosevelt Boulevard, Philadelphia, PA 19155, on or before the last day of the first calendar month following the close of the calendar quarter. Any amounts required to be paid to the Director pursuant to this subdivision shall be made with quarterly transmittal Form 4277, even though the withholding agent has made no deposits pursuant to paragraph (a)(2) of § 1.6302-2 and has no validated depositary receipts to accompany that transmittal form.

(ii) 1973 and subsequent years. Payments are not required to be made for calendar quarters ending after December 31, 1972.

(2) Payment of balance of tax with Form 1042. If for any reason the total amount of tax required to be returned for any calendar year pursuant to paragraph (b) of § 1.1461-2 has not been deposited pursuant to § 1.6302-2 (or, for years prior to 1973 deposited pursuant to § 1.6302-2 or paid pursuant to subparagraph (1) of this paragraph), the withholding agent shall pay the balance of tax due for such year to the Director, Internal Revenue Service Center, 11601 Roosevelt Boulevard, Philadelphia, PA 19155, when filing Form 1042 for such year.

V38-1 JAN 3 73 XUM

. . . . .

PAR. 2. Paragraphs (a)(1), (b), and (c) of § 1.1461–4 are revised to read as follows:

§ 1.1461–4 Adjustments for overwithholding of tax.

(a) Repayment of erroneously withheld tax after payment of tax by withholding agent—(1) Repayment of tax to payee. If, in any payment period (as defined in paragraph (c) of this section) occurring in a calendar year, a withholding agent (i) withholds from amounts paid to any person more than the correct amount of tax required to be withheld under chapter 3 of the Code and (ii) makes a deposit of the amount of such overwithholding as provided in § 1.6302–2 (or, for years prior to 1973, makes a payment or deposit of the amount of such overwithholding as provided in § 1.1461–3 or § 1.6302–2), the withholding agent may repay such amount, at any time before filing Form 1042 for such calendar year, to the person from whose income such amount was withheld.

(b) Adjustment of tax payments or deposits. If, pursuant to paragraph (a)(1) of this section, a withholding agent repays a person the amount of tax overwithheld from such person under chapter 3 of the Code during any payment period of the calendar year, the withholding agent may reduce, by the amount so overwithheld, the amount of any deposit of tax required by paragraph (a) of § 1.6302–2 (or, for years prior to 1973, the amount of any payment or deposit of tax required by § 1.1461–3 or paragraph (a) of § 1.6302–2) to be made by the withholding agent for any subsequent payment period occurring before the end of the calendar year following the calendar year of overwithholding. The reduction of a payment or deposit of tax for a payment period occurring in the calendar year following the calendar year of overwithholding shall be made only if the withholding agent files, on his Form 1042 for the calendar year of overwithholding, a claim for credit in accordance with paragraph (b) of § 1.6414–1. The application of this paragraph may be illustrated by the following examples:

Example (1). (a) A is a nonresident alien individual who is a resident of the United Kingdom. In December 1973, a domestic corporation M pays a dividend of $100 to A, at which time M Corporation withholds $30 and remits the balance of $70 to A. On February 16, 1974, A advises M Corporation that, pursuant to the income tax convention with the United Kingdom, only $15 tax should have been withheld from the $100 dividend and requests repayment of the $15 which was erroneously withheld. Although M Corporation has already deposited the $30 which was withheld, as permitted by paragraph (a)(1)(iv) of § 1.6302–2, such corporation repays A in the amount of $15.

(b) During 1973 M Corporation makes no other payments upon which tax is required to be withheld under chapter 3 of the Code; accordingly, its return on Form 1042 for such year, which is filed on March 15, 1974, shows total tax withheld of $30, which is reduced by an adjustment of $15 for the amount repaid to A, an adjusted total tax withheld of $15, and $30 previously paid for such year. Pursuant to paragraph (b) of § 1.6414–1, M Corporation claims credit for the overpayment of $15 shown on the Form 1042 for 1973. Accordingly, it is permitted to reduce by $15 any deposit required by § 1.6302–2 to be made of tax withheld during 1974. The Form 1042S required to be filed by M Corporation with respect to the dividend of $100 paid to A in 1973 is required to show tax withheld of $30 and tax released of $15. The Form 1042S (or authorized substitute) is required to accompany the Form 1042 for 1973 which is filed on March 15, 1974. No additional explanation is required to be filed with the Form 1042 for 1973 in support of the $15 adjustment claimed thereon.

(c) During 1974 M Corporation is required to withhold under chapter 3 of the Code $200, all of such amount being withheld in June of that year. Pursuant to § 1.6302–2, M Corporation deposits on July 15, 1974, the amount of $185, that is, $200 less the $15 for which credit is claimed on the Form 1042 for 1973. On March 17, 1975, M Corporation files its return on Form 1042 for 1974, which shows total tax withheld of $200, $185 previously deposited by M Corporation, and $15 allowable credit.

Example (2). The facts are the same as in example (1) except that paragraph (c) of such example does not apply and that M Corporation is required to deposit on a quarter-monthly basis the tax withheld under chapter 3 of the Code. M Corporation withholds tax of $100 between February 22, and February 28, 1974, and complies with the quarter-monthly deposit requirement of paragraph (a)(1)(ii) of § 1.6302–2 by depositing $75 [(100 X 90 percent) less $15] of the withheld tax by March 5, 1974 (3 banking days after February 28, 1974) and by depositing $10 [($100–$15) less $75] by March 20, 1974 (3 banking days after March 15, 1974).

(c) Definition—(1) 1973 and subsequent years. For purposes of this section, for calendar years beginning on or after January 1, 1973, the term "payment period" means a calendar month or a quarter-monthly period (as the case may be) in such a calendar year with respect to which the withholding agent is required by paragraph (a)(1) of § 1.6302–2 to make a deposit of tax withheld under chapter 3 of the Code.

(2) Years prior to 1973. For the purposes of this section, for calendar years ending on or before December 31, 1972, the term "payment period" means (i) (a) a calendar month or (b) a semimonthly period (as the case may be) in such a calendar year with respect to which the withholding agent is required by paragraph (a)(2) of § 1.6302–2 to make a deposit of tax withheld under chapter 3 of the Code, or (ii) a calendar quarter in such a calendar year with respect to which he is required by paragraph (a)(1) of § 1.1461–3 to make a payment of such tax.

. . . . .

PAR. 3. Paragraph (a) of § 1.6302–2 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.6302–2 Use of Government depositories for payment of tax withheld on nonresident aliens and foreign corporations.

(a) Time for making deposits—(1) Deposits for 1973 and subsequent years—(i) Monthly deposits. Except as provided in subdivisions (ii) and (iv) of this subparagraph, every withholding agent who, pursuant to chapter 3 of the Code, has accumulated at the close of any calendar month beginning on or after January 1, 1973, an aggregate amount of undeposited taxes of $200 or more shall deposit such aggregate amount with a Federal Reserve bank or authorized commercial bank (see paragraph (b)(1)(ii) of this section) within 15 days after the close of such calendar month. However, the preceding sentence shall not apply if posit of taxes pursuant to subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph with respect to a quarter-monthly period which occurred during such month.

(ii) Quarter-monthly deposits. If at the close of any quarter-monthly period within a calendar month beginning on or after January 1, 1973, the aggregate amount of undeposited taxes required to be withheld pursuant to chapter 3 of the Code is $2,000 or more, the withholding agent shall deposit such aggregate amount in a Federal Reserve bank or authorized commercial bank within 3 banking days after the close of such quarter-monthly period. For purposes of determining the amount of undeposited taxes at the close of a quarter-monthly period, undeposited taxes withheld with respect to items paid during a prior quarter-monthly period shall not be taken into account if the withholding agent made a deposit with respect to such prior quarter-monthly period. A withholding agent will be considered to have complied with the requirements of this subdivision with respect to the close of a quarter-monthly period if—

(a) His deposit is not less than 90 percent of the aggregate amount of the taxes required to be withheld during the period for which the deposit is made, and

(b) If such quarter-monthly period occurs in a month other than December, he deposits any underpayment with his first deposit which is otherwise required by this subparagraph to be made after the 15th day of the following month. Any underpayment of $200 or more for a quarter-monthly period closing during December must be deposited on or before the following January 31.

For purposes of this subparagraph, the term "quarter-monthly period" means the first 7 days of a calendar month, the 8th day through the 15th day of a calendar month, the 16th day through the 22d day of a calendar month, or the portion of a calendar month following the 22d day of such month.

(iii) Excess deposits. The excess (if any) of a deposit over the actual taxes for a monthly or quarter-monthly deposit period shall be applied in order of time to each of the withholding agent's succeeding deposits with respect to the same calendar year, until exhausted, to the extent that the amount by which the taxes for a subsequent deposit period exceed the deposit for such subsequent deposit period.

(iv) Annual deposits. If at the close of the month of December of each calendar year beginning on or after January 1, 1973, the aggregate amount of undeposited taxes required to be withheld pursuant to chapter 3 of the Code is less than $200, the withholding agent may deposit such aggregate amount in a Federal Reserve bank or authorized commercial bank on or before March 15 of the following calendar year. If such aggregate amount is not so deposited, it shall be remitted in accordance with paragraph (a)(2) of § 1.1461–3.

(2) Deposits for years prior to 1973—(i) Monthly deposits. Except as provided in subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph, every withholding agent who, pursuant to chapter 3 of the Code, withholds during any calendar month (other than the last month of a calendar quarter) of a calendar year beginning before January 1, 1973, more than $100 in the aggregate shall deposit such aggregate amount with a Federal Reserve bank or authorized commercial bank within 15 days after the close of such calendar month, and who so withholds during March 1968, more than $100 in the aggregate shall so deposit such aggregate amount on or before April 30, 1968.

(ii) Semimonthly deposits. Every withholding agent who, pursuant to chapter 3 of the Code, withholds during any calendar month of a calendar quarter of a calendar year beginning before January 1, 1973, more than $2,500 in the aggregate shall deposit any tax, which is required to be withheld under such chapter during any semimonthly period of the next succeeding calendar quarter, with a Federal Reserve bank or authorized commercial bank within 3 banking days after the close of the semimonthly period during which the amounts to which such withholding relates are paid. For purposes of this subdivision, the term "semimonthly period" means the first 15 days of a calendar month or the part of a calendar month following the 15th day of such month. A withholding agent will be considered to have complied with the deposit requirements of this subdivision in respect of any semimonthly period if (a) his deposit for such semimonthly period is made within the time otherwise prescribed, (b) is not less than 90 percent of the aggregate amount of the tax required to be withheld under chapter 3 of the Code during such semimonthly period, and (c) if such semimonthly period occurs in a calendar month other than the last month in a calendar quarter, he deposits, within 3 banking days after the 15th day of the month following such calendar month, the balance of any amount withheld during such calendar month and not previously deposited, or if such semimonthly period occurs in March 1968, he deposits, on or before the last day of April 1968, the balance of any amount withheld during such calendar month and not previously deposited. In a case where an adjustment in the amount of a deposit for a semimonthly period is allowed pursuant to paragraph (b)(2) of § 1.1461–4, the 90-percent requirement of this subdivision will be considered met if the deposit for such period is not less than 90 percent of the aggregate amount of tax required to be withheld during such semimonthly period (determined without regard to such adjustment), reduced by the amount of such adjustment. See paragraph (b)(2) of § 1.1461–4 and example (2) thereunder. For determining the amount of tax required to be withheld under chapter 3 of the Code where there has been a reimbursement of overwithheld tax, see paragraph (b)(1)(ii) of § 1.1461–4.

(iii) Quarterly deposits. Every withholding agent who, pursuant to chapter 3 of the Code, withholds during any calendar quarter beginning after March 31, 1968, and ending on or before December 31, 1972, tax in an amount which exceeds by more than $100 the total amount deposited by him pursuant to subdivisions (i) and (ii) of this subparagraph for such calendar quarter, shall, on or before the last day of the first calendar month following the close of the calendar quarter, deposit with a Federal Reserve bank or authorized commercial bank an amount equal to the amount by which the total tax withheld during the calendar quarter exceeds the total deposits (if any) made pursuant to subdivisions (i) and (ii) of this subparagraph.

(iv) Annual deposits. If for any reason the total amount of tax required to be returned for a calendar year beginning after December 31, 1967, and before January 1, 1973, pursuant to paragraph (b) of § 1.1461–2 (relating to return of tax withheld) exceeds by more than $100 the sum of—

(a) Amounts deposited pursuant to subdivisions (i), (ii), and (iii) of this subparagraph (including any voluntary deposits made pursuant to paragraph (b)(3) of this section), and the withholding agent shall deposit the balance of tax due for such year with a Federal Reserve bank or authorized commercial bank on or before the 15th day of the third month following the close of the calendar year.

(v) Transitional rules. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a)(1) of § 1.1461–3 and of subdivisions (i) and (ii) of this subparagraph, the aggregate amount of tax required to be withheld under chapter 3 of the Code by any withholding agent after December 31, 1966, and before June 1, 1967, shall be deposited with a Federal Reserve bank on or before June 22, 1967. For the purpose of paragraph (b)(2) of this section any amount deposited in accordance with the requirement of this subparagraph shall be considered as if it were deposited with respect to amounts withheld during the calendar quarter beginning April 1, 1967.

(3) Cross reference. For rules relating to the adjustment of deposits, see § 1.1461–4(b) and § 1.6414–1. For rules requiring payment of any undeposited tax, see § 1.1461–3.

Title 40—PROTECTION OF ENVIRONMENT

Chapter I—Environmental Protection Agency

SUBCHAPTER E—PESTICIDES PROGRAMS

PART 180—TOLERANCES AND EXEMPTIONS FROM TOLERANCES FOR PESTICIDE CHEMICALS IN OR ON RAW AGRICULTURAL COMMODITIES

Chlordimeform

A petition (PP 1F1171) was filed jointly by Ciba Agrochemical Co. (now Ciba-Geigy Corp.), Post Office Box 1105, Vero Beach, FL 32960, and NOR-AM Agricultural Products, Inc., 11710 Lake Avenue, Woodstock, IL 60098, in accordance with provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 346a), proposing establishment of tolerances for combined residues of the insecticide chlordimeform (N'-(4-chloro-o-tolyl)-N, N-dimethylformamidine) and its metabolites containing the 4-chloro-o-tolui-dine moiety (calculated as the parent insecticide) from application of the insecticide as the free base or as the hydrochloride salt in or on the raw agricultural commodities cherries, nectarines, and peaches at 5 parts per million; plums (fresh prunes) at 4 parts per million; and walnuts at 0.25 part per million.

V 38 - 1 JAN 3 73 XUM

Subsequently, the petitioner amended the petition by reducing the proposed tolerance for residues on walnuts to 0.1 part per million. (For a related document, see this issue of the FEDERAL REGISTER, page 11.)

Based on consideration given the data submitted in the petition and other relevant material, it is concluded that:

1. The insecticide is useful for the purpose for which the tolerances are being established.

2. There is no reasonable expectation of residues in eggs, meat, milk, or poultry, and § 180.6(a)(3) applies.

3. The tolerances established by this order will protect the public health.

Therefore, pursuant to provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (sec. 408(d)(2), 68 Stat. 512; 21 U.S.C. 346a(d)(2)), the authority transferred to the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency (35 F.R. 15623), and the authority delegated by the Administrator to the Deputy Assistant Administrator for Pesticides Programs (36 F.R. 9038), § 180.285 is amended by revising the paragraph "5 parts per million • • •" and by adding the two new paragraphs "4 parts per million • • •" and "0.1 part per million • • •", as follows:

§ 180.285 Chlordimeform; tolerances for residues.

• • • • •

5 parts per million in or on cottonseed, cherries, nectarines, peaches, and pears.

4 parts per million in or on plums (fresh prunes).

• • • • •

0.1 part per million in or on walnuts.

• • • • •

Any person who will be adversely affected by the foregoing order may at any time within 30 days after its date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER file with the Hearing Clerk, Environmental Protection Agency, Room 3902A, Fourth and M Street SW., Waterside Mall, Washington, D.C. 20460, written objections thereto in quintuplicate. Objections shall show wherein the person filing will be adversely affected by the order and specify with particularity the provisions of the order deemed objectionable and the grounds for the objections. If a hearing is requested, the objections must state the issues for the hearing. A hearing will be granted if the objections are supported by grounds legally sufficient to justify the relief sought. Objections may be accompanied by a memorandum or brief in support thereof.

Effective date. This order shall become effective on its date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (1-3-73).

Title 45—PUBLIC WELFARE

Chapter I—Office of Education, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare

PART 177—FEDERAL, STATE, AND PRIVATE PROGRAMS OF LOW-INTEREST LOANS TO VOCATIONAL STUDENTS AND STUDENTS IN INSTITUTIONS OF HIGHER EDUCATION

Application for Federal Interest Benefits and Student Affidavit

A proposal was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on October 28, 1972 (Vol. 37, No. 209, p. 23152) to amend Part 177 of Title 45 of the Code of Federal Regulations to reflect certain provisions of the Education Amendments of 1972, Public Law 92-318. The key provisions of this proposal were essentially as follows:

1. Under revised § 177.2 a lender would set the amount of a loan as to which Federal interest benefits were applied for with the guidance of a recommendation of the educational institution to be attended by the student borrower. The recommendation of the educational institution is to be determined in accordance with a statutorily specified formula which takes into account the student's educational costs, expected family contribution, and other sources of financial aid. The section would define "expected family contribution" and specify the distinction to be applied between borrowers with adjusted family incomes of less than $15,000 and those with adjusted family incomes equal to or in excess of $15,000. Nothing in the revisions of § 177.2 would impose any new restrictions on the making of loans as to which no application is made for payment of Federal interest benefits.

2. New § 177.10 would set forth the rules applicable to the filing of the statutorily required affidavit that the student will use his loan proceeds solely for educational purposes.

Interested persons were invited to comment on the proposed amendments. A number of respondents suggested that the methods of determining the expected family contribution which were authorized under the proposed § 177.2(c)(2) would produce unrealistically high figures with respect to students who are no longer dependent on their parents and who have family responsibilities of their own. Accordingly, under new § 177.2(c)(3) an educational institution will be permitted to use a different method of computing the expected family contribution which takes these responsibilities into account with respect to independent students as defined in § 177.2(c)(3). Such a method must be one which has been promulgated by the Commissioner of Education or which produces results which are, on the whole, not dissimilar from those which would be produced under any method which has been so promulgated. It is expected that the Commissioner will promulgate at least one such method shortly.

The majority of the other comments expressing dissatisfaction with the proposed regulatory amendments contained objections to the inclusion of statutory requirements or the omission of provisions unauthorized by statute. In particular, it should be noted that the law requires that in order for any student, regardless of adjusted family income, to qualify for interest benefits, the educational institution which he is to attend must determine the amount of his need for a loan by subtracting from the estimated cost of his attendance at such institution his expected family contribution plus other resources or student aid, and the institution must then provide the lender with a statement recommending a loan in the amount of such need. Moreover, there is no authority in the law under which the Commissioner could compensate educational institutions for performing this function.

Other respondents objected to the requirement that the new student affidavit be signed in the presence of an authorized person other than one who takes part in the recruiting of students for enrollment at the prospective borrower's eligible institution. The Commissioner believes, however, that although this requirement may cause some parties some inconvenience, the segregation of the two functions will tend to prevent the pro forma treatment of the affidavit and to encourage the deliberate consideration of its terms by the prospective borrower.

Many comments were also received concerning the proposed form to be used with the amended regulations, which was published as an appendix to the proposed regulatory amendments. A number of the ideas contained in these comments are being incorporated into the final form, which will be available shortly.

Inasmuch as the Office of Education is currently reviewing the suitability of a number of methods of determining expected family contribution for this and other Federal student assistance programs, methods named in § 177.2(c)(2) are being approved only "until further notice".

In light of the foregoing, Part 177 of Title 45 of the Code of Federal Regulations is hereby amended by revising § 177.2 and adding a new § 177.10 (which sections shall be identical to those included in the proposal published on October 28, except for the modifications indicated above), to read as follows:

§ 177.2 Student eligibility for interest benefits.

(a) A student: (1) Who has received a loan from an eligible lender under (i) a student loan insurance program meeting the requirements of § 177.12 or § 177.13, (ii) a program meeting the requirements of § 177.14, or (iii) the program of Federal loan insurance provided for in Subpart E of this part, (2) who is enrolled or has been accepted for enrollment as at least a half-time student in an eligible institution, (3) who has had made on his behalf the determination and statement (and, as applicable, the consultation) provided for in paragraph (b) of this section, and (4) who is a national of the United States or is in the United States for other than a temporary purpose and intends to become a permanent resident thereof, or is a permanent resident of the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands, is eligible for payment on his behalf of a portion of the interest as determined under § 177.4.

(b) In order for a student to be eligible for payment on his behalf by the Commissioner of a portion of the interest on a loan as determined under § 177.4: (1) The eligible institution at which the student has been accepted for enrollment or which he is attending (and in good standing as determined by the institution) must, prior to the making of such loan, (i) determine, pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section, the loan amount needed by the student, if any, and (ii) recommend that the lender make a loan in the amount so determined, and (2) the loan must not exceed the eligible institution's recommendation unless the basis for the lender's making a larger loan has been reduced to writing and made a part of the lender's records. In addition, in the case of a student with an adjusted family income equal to or greater than $15,000, if the loan exceeds the eligible institution's recommendation, a portion of the interest on such loan will be paid pursuant to § 177.4 only if prior to making the loan the lender consults with the eligible institution with respect to the latter's recommendation. The lender must keep a record of such consultation.

(c)(1) The determination referred to in paragraph (b) of this section is to be made by a responsible officer of the eligible institution concerned by subtracting from the amount estimated by such institution to be the cost of attendance at such institution for the period for which the loan is to be made, the expected family contribution with respect to such student plus any other resources or student aid that such institution determines to be reasonably available to the student during such period.

(2) For the purpose of this paragraph the "expected family contribution" shall mean the amount which a student, his parents, and his spouse may be realistically expected to contribute toward his postsecondary education for the academic period to be covered by the loan. The determination of the expected family contribution must be made by an eligible institution through the use of a method, embodying uniformly applicable standards and criteria, which takes into account the income, assets, and resources of the student and, except where the conditions set forth in § 177.3(c) are met, the income, assets, and resources of the student's parents and spouse. Any method used under an agreement between the eligible institution and the Commissioner in connection with the administration of any other program of Federal financial assistance, or, until further notice, the Alternate Income System, the American College Testing Program system, the College Scholarship Service system, or the Income Tax system, will meet the requirements of this paragraph. Other methods may meet the requirements of this paragraph but only if, except as provided in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, they produce results which are, on the whole, not dissimilar from those which would be produced under any of the methods referred to in this paragraph. The eligible institution should make appropriate adjustments to the results reached under any of the approved methods so as to consider more meaningfully the individual circumstances of the student involved and, where applicable, his parents or spouse. Information about the generally recognized methods of needs analysis may be obtained from State or private nonprofit loan guarantee agencies, the regional offices of the U.S. Office of Education, and the Division of Insured Loans, Bureau of Higher Education, U.S. Office of Education, Washington, DC 20202.

(3) With respect to a student whose parents' income need not under § 177.3(c) be considered in computing his adjusted family income, an eligible institution may determine such student's expected family contribution through the use of a method which, by taking into account the family responsibilities of such student, produces results dissimilar from those which would be produced under any of the methods referred to in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph which do not take such factors into account. Such a method must be one which has been promulgated by the Commissioner or which produces results which are, on the whole, not dissimilar from those which would be produced under any method which has been so promulgated.

(d) To have interest payments made on his behalf, a student shall submit to the lender a statement in such form as the Commissioner may prescribe, which shall include:

(1) A certification by an eligible institution that he is enrolled at the institution or has been accepted for enrollment;

(2) Information necessary to determine, pursuant to § 177.3, whether his adjusted family income is less than $15,000;

(3) A statement from the eligible institution containing the determination and the recommendation provided for in paragraph (b) of this section; and

(4) Information concerning other loans to him which have been made under programs covered by this part or Part 178.

(e) The lender, acting in good faith, may in the absence of information to the contrary rely upon statements submitted by the borrower, his family, or an eligible institution pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section.

(f) This section shall apply to a loan if application for an insurance commitment with respect to such loan is received after February 28, 1973, by a State or private nonprofit agency under a student loan insurance program or the appropriate regional office of the U.S. Office of Education under the program of Federal loan insurance, or if a note or written evidence of a loan commitment is executed after February 28, 1973, under a direct State student loan program.

(g) Nothing in this section requires determination of need for a loan or of an expected family contribution or of adjusted family income with respect to the making or insuring of any loan covered by this part as to which no application for Federal interest benefits is made.

(20 U.S.C. 1078)

§ 177.10 Affidavit.

(a) No loan or loan guarantee may be made under this part unless the student to whom it is made has filed with the lender an affidavit, on a form provided or approved by the Commissioner, stating that the money attributable to such loan or loan guarantee will be used solely for expenses related to attendance at the eligible institution which the student intends to attend or is attending.

(b) The student must sign the affidavit in the presence of a notary or other person who is legally authorized to administer oaths or affirmations and who does not take part in the recruiting of students for enrollment at the eligible institution which the student intends to attend or is attending. The notary or other person must enter his signature and, as applicable, his seal or stamp on the affidavit form.

(c) The affidavit must be filed with the lender before the lender may apply for Federal insurance or a guarantee from a State or private nonprofit guarantee agency or, where the lender operates a direct State student loan program, before the loan for which the student is applying may be made. The lender must retain a copy of the affidavit in accordance with § 177.8(e). A copy of the affidavit or a statement that the affidavit has been filed must accompany the lender's application for Federal insurance or for a guarantee from a State or private nonprofit guarantee agency.

Title 47—TELECOMMUNICATION

Chapter I—Federal Communications Commission

[Docket No. 19551; FCC 72-1177]

PART 73—RADIO BROADCAST SERVICES

Table of Assignments, FM Broadcast Stations

First report and order. In the matter of amendment of § 73.202(b), Table of Assignments, FM Broadcast Stations. (Dublin and Atlanta, Ga.; Starkville, Miss.; Helena, Ark.), Docket No. 19551, RM-1821, RM-1923, RM-1864, RM-1978.

1. The Commission has before it the notice of proposed rule making, released July 24, 1972 (37 F.R. 15320) proposing an amendment of § 73.202(b) of the rules, the Table of FM Assignments.[1] The rule making proceeding was instituted on the basis of four petitions for assignment of FM channels to communities which were either conflicting or linked with one of the other proposals. Subsequent to the issuance of the notice, six other petitions were consolidated into the proceeding as counterproposals. This report and order concerns only the petition for a change in the assignment at Helena, Ark., RM-1978. At a later date, a report and order will be issued on the remaining petitions.

2. The notice observed that the operation of Station KCRI licensed to Radio Helena, Inc., on Channel 298, was causing second harmonic interference in the Helena, Ark., area to the reception of the television signal of a Memphis, Tenn., station operating on Channel 13. It appeared that although Radio Helena had taken corrective steps to rectify the interference problems, none of the steps proved effective. In the face of an economic boycott, the station reduced its radiated power from 48.8 kilowatts to 1.2 kilowatts, but some problems still remained. Since another Class C channel was not available for Helena, Radio Helena requested substitution of Channel 276A for Channel 298. However, this required a change in the assignment at Clarksdale, Miss., from Channel 276A to Channel 292A which coincided with part of an Atlanta, Ga., package of proposed changes. The Radio Helena petition was thus made a part of this rule making proceeding. In addition, since Radio Helena wished to continue operating from its present site, and since on the basis of the information then filed the distance separation from the proposed channel would be short-spaced less than 1 mile to Station WREC-FM, Memphis, Tenn., operating on Channel 274, it requested a waiver of the rule. In its motion to sever, Radio Helena stated that it had furnished incorrect coordinates for its transmitter site. The distance based on the corrected information, shows that the KCRI site would meet the minimum mileage separation requirement to Station WREC-FM. Thus, no further consideration need be given to the request for a waiver of the rule.

3. We believe that it would be in the public interest to sever the proposal for Helena, Ark., from other proposals in this proceeding, and grant the petition for substitution of an FM assignment. The connecting link of the Helena proposal with the Atlanta package of proposed changes is Clarksdale, Miss. If channel 292A were to be substituted for channel 276A at Clarksdale, the change there would not affect the assignment at Oxford, Miss.—either the present or the proposed assignment. Oxford is presently assigned channel 248 and would be changed to channel 278 by the Atlanta proposal, which in turn requires a change at Clarksdale to channel 292A. The severance and grant of the Helena proposal therefore would not affect whatever action that may be taken later on the Atlanta proposal. Further, the adoption of the proposed change in the assignment at Helena would provide immediate relief to Station KCRI from its limited power operation.

4. There is one other matter which must be taken into consideration. The proposal in RM-1978 was to delete channel 298 at Helena, Ark., and substitute Channel 276A therefor. To accomplish this change, the notice herein also proposed substitution of channel 292A for channel 276A at Clarksdale, Miss. In passing, the notice mentioned that the deletion of channel 298 at Helena would make it free for use elsewhere, and it was noted that the petitioner for the change at Helena mentioned Stuttgart, Ark., as a likely location. (See Policy to Govern the Change of FM Channels to Avoid Interference to Television Reception, Public Notice, FCC 66-106, Feb. 3, 1966.) However, the notice (released July 24, 1972) did not contain a proposal to assign channel 298 to Stuttgart. On July 21, 1972, Carroll D. Caldwell filed a petition for rule making (RM-2020) to assign channel 295 to Little Rock, Ark., a proposal which would conflict with assignment of channel 298 to Stuttgart. Through error, in a public notice released August 4, 1972 (FCC Report No. 825), it was announced, pursuant to our cutoff procedures in FM rule making proceedings, that RM-2020 would be considered as a counterproposal in this docket. In a Public Notice (FCC No. 833) released October 2, 1972, we corrected that error by announcing that RM-2020 would not be considered in this docket. The basis for this was that, since there was no outstanding proposal to assign channel 298 to Stuttgart, it was improper to associate RM-2020 with this docket as a counterproposal.

5. Mr. Caldwell on October 17, 1972, filed a petition for reconsideration of the October 2 action urging, among other things, that comments have been filed in this proceeding going to the merits of his Little Rock proposal and that to remove RM-2020 from this docket will cause Mr. Caldwell to suffer a delay of many months before it again reaches the procedural posture that it had in this proceeding. The short answer to this is that the Caldwell petition (RM-2020) was erroneously injected into this docket and we see no reason why it should be retained, especially since an opposition filed against it raises problems the solution of which could unduly delay a final disposition of RM-1978 concerning Helena.[2] Accordingly, the petition for reconsideration will be denied. When the Caldwell petition for rule making is acted on, all filings directed at it when it was filed, or filed as comments in the present docket will be taken into consideration.

6. The authority for the actions taken herein is contained in sections 4(i), 303 (g) and (r), and 307(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

7. Accordingly, it is ordered, That effective February 2, 1973, the Table of FM Assignments (§ 73.202(b) of the rules) is amended with respect to the cities listed below to read as follows:

City	Channel No.
Helena, Ark	276A
Clarksdale, Miss	269A, 292A

8. It is further ordered, That effective February 2, 1973, and pursuant to section 316(a) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the outstanding license held by Radio Helena, Inc., for Station KCRI(FM), Helena, Ark., is modified to specify operation on Channel 276A in lieu of Channel 298 subject to the following conditions:

(a) The licensee shall inform the Commission in writing by no later than January 15, 1973, of its acceptance of this modification.

(b) The licensee shall submit to the Commission by February 2, 1973, all necessary information complying with the applicable technical rules for modification of authorization to cover the operation of Station KCRI(FM) on Channel 276A at Helena, Ark.

(c) The licensee may continue to operate on Channel 298 under its outstanding authorization until it is ready to operate on the new frequency. Within 30 days of commencing operation on Channel 276A, the licensee shall submit measurement data of the sort normally required in an application for an FM broadcast station license.

(d) The licensee shall not commence operation on Channel 276A without prior authorization from the Commission.

9. It is further ordered, That the motion to sever and request for immediate grant filed October 20, 1972, by Radio Helena, Inc., is granted, and

10. It is further ordered, That the petition for reconsideration filed October 17, 1972, by Carroll D. Caldwell is denied.

(Secs. 4, 303, 307, 48 Stat., as amended, 1066, 1082, 1083; 47 U.S.C. 154, 303, 307)

Adopted: December 20, 1972.

Released: December 27, 1972.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,
[SEAL] BEN F. WAPLE,
Secretary.

[FR Doc.73-61 Filed 1-2-73;8:45 am]

[1] Also there is a motion to sever and request for immediate grant filed Oct. 20, 1972, by Radio Helena, Inc., licensee of Station KCRI (FM), Helena, Ark. Since the action to be taken herein would not prejudice the proposals filed by other parties to the proceeding, we will grant the motion.

[2] Mr. Caldwell will not be penalized as his petition will receive action in turn based on its original filing date.

[Docket No. 19491; FCC 72-1174]

PART 73—RADIO BROADCAST SERVICES

Table of Assignments, FM Broadcast Stations

Report and order. In the matter of amendment of § 73.202(b), Table of assignments, FM Broadcast Stations. (Front Royal, Va.; Morro Bay, Calif.; Vieques, P.R.), Docket No. 19491, RM-1769, RM-1789, RM-1792.

1. On April 19, 1972, the Commission adopted a notice of proposed rule making (FCC 72-355, released April 25, 1972) in the above-entitled matter. That notice, which we presently have before us, discussed the amendment of section 73.202(b) of our rules in respect to three FM channel allocations. Each will be discussed seriatim below. All population statistics cited are from the 1970 U.S. census unless otherwise specified.

RM-1769, FRONT ROYAL, VA.

2. On March 19, 1971, WFTR, Inc. (WFTR) filed a petition requesting the assignment of FM channel 237A to Front Royal, Va. The notice of proposed rule making cited above set out the proposal for exploration in this rule making proceeding. No other revision in the FM table of assignments was proposed. The only party filing comments with respect to the proposal is petitioner.

3. Front Royal, Va. (population 8,211) is the county seat of Warren County (population 15,301). The only standard broadcast station in Front Royal (WFTR), a class IV operation, is licensed to the petitioner. Channel 257A, the only FM assignment in the community, is occupied by Wayside Broadcasting Corp. which holds a CP for WFFV at Front Royal.

4. WFTR's comment basically is a reiteration of its original petition, the public interest showing of which was set forth in the notice of proposed rule making in this docket. It is maintained that but 12 of Virginia's 96 counties have a higher per capita income than Warren County, and that only eight have a higher median income. The pleadings indicate that over one-half of the population of Warren County is under 31 years of age, and that the average family size of the population is 3.42 persons. Over two-thirds of these families have children under 18 years of age. In light of these facts petitioner concludes that Warren County and Front Royal are dynamic and growing areas. WFTR asserts that its standard broadcast station is severely limited in its nighttime coverage and that the proposed FM service would increase the nighttime coverage of its present programing from 9 square miles to 615 square miles.

5. In view of the foregoing and the facts that: no oppositions have been filed, no existing assignment or service will be disturbed by the proposed assignment and that there is a strong interest on the part of petitioner to bring Front Royal and its surrounding area a full-time commercial service, we find it in the public interest to amend § 73.202(b) of our rules to assign FM channel 237A to Front Royal, Va.[1]

RM-1789, MORRO BAY, CALIF.

6. The notice of proposed rule making in this proceeding, in response to a petition filed on April 9, 1971 and a supplement received on May 14, 1971, by Mineral King Broadcasters and Mr. Elbert H. Dean, a joint venture doing business as Morro Bay Broadcasters (Bay Broadcasters), proposed to assign FM channel 283 to Morro Bay, Calif. No other changes in the FM table of assignments are required or proposed. In response to the notice comments were received from petitioner and Central California Communications Corp. (licensee of FM station KSBY-FM, channel 227, San Luis Obispo, Calif.) (KSBY). Both participating parties also filed reply comments.

7. San Luis Obispo County, Calif. has a population of 105,690 persons. It contains the city of Morro Bay with 7,109 residents. The FM table of assignments contains no assignment for Morro Bay. Petitioner presently holds a CP (BP-14338) for the construction of KBAI with which it expects to serve the community as a daytime-only standard broadcast station.

8. Bay Broadcasters' comment assures the Commission of its present intention to apply for channel 283 upon assignment of the channel to Morro Bay, Calif., and incorporates by reference its former pleadings. Apparently petitioner is of the view that our notice's presentation of its position adequately describes its contentions.

9. KSBY opposes the proposed assignment of channel 283 to Morro Bay, Calif., basically on the ground that a class B operation at Morro Bay would do its station (KSBY-FM, FM channel 227, San Luis Obispo, Calif., 12 miles distant) economic harm through competition. In opposing the Morro Bay assignment it also offers a variety of public interest considerations, which in its view, militate against the assignment of channel 283 to Morro Bay. It is KSBY's belief that Bay Broadcasters seeks the assignment of channel 283 to Morro Bay only to serve the city of San Luis Obispo ("a Suburban Issue") and that such competition to the existing services at San Luis Obispo will result in "economic chaos."[2] No financial or economic statistics are offered to support this position. In view of the facts that the proposed channel 283 would meet our minimum mileage separation requirements for assignment to San Luis Obispo directly, and that petitioner is not seeking to have the channel assigned to that community, but instead is seeking to have the proposed assignment made to Morro Bay, 12 miles distant, we cannot agree that any "Suburban Issue" exists in this matter. In brief, if Bay Broadcasters' intent was to create a new service for San Luis Obispo it could do so simply by seeking the assignment of channel 283 directly to that community. In light of the material Bay Broadcasters has set out concerning Morro Bay (see reference in paragraph 8, supra), the distance between San Luis Obispo and Morro Bay and the rugged terrain between them (which tends to separate them socially and commercially) we are convinced that the two cities are basically independent entities, each with their own interests, needs, and tastes. With respect to the question of any possible undesirable economic competition between the proposed FM station at Morro Bay and KSBY's service at San Luis Obispo ("a Carroll issue"), we must follow our long established standard policy of normally considering such questions only in connection with objections raised at the time of specific applications for licensing. Here, however, we do wish to note, that both commercial FM assignments in San Luis Obispo are class B in power and that they will give any Morro Bay service some competition—a competition which may make any Morro Bay service infeasible if it were without equal power.

10. There are a number of general public interest considerations which KSBY brings to our attention in attempting to demonstrate that the assignment of channel 283 should not be made to Morro Bay: first, it argues that the general assignment policy of the Commission correctly is to assign class B and C FM channels to large cities and class A FM channels to small communities such as Morro Bay. Therefore it maintains that

[1] Due to the existence of station WQMC on channel 237A at Charlottesville, Va., the transmitter site for any Front Royal station established on channel 237A will have to be located at a minimum of 4 miles north of the community.

[2] The population of San Luis Obispo is 28,036. It has two commercial FM class B assignments, 227 (KSBY-FM) and 241 (KUNA(FM)). Three standard broadcast stations are licensed in the community: KSLY, KVEC, and KATY.

V38-1 JAN 73 XUM

the assignment of a class B channel to Morro Bay conflicts with our general assignment policy and is unprecedented. In response Bay Broadcasters lists the following small California communities with their populations asserting that each has a class B FM assignment: Alturas (2,799), Auburn (6,570), Bishop (3,498), Blythe (7,047), Burney (2,190), Dinuba (7,917), Needles (4,051), Oakdale (6,594), and Twenty-nine Palms (5,667). Petitioner maintains that there is an established exception to the general assignment policy noted by KSBY, i.e., that class B and C FM channels are assigned by the Commission to small communities when there are circumstances which demonstrate that a class A FM channel would not serve a sufficient number of people to make a class A assignment economically feasible because of the smallness of the community itself when surrounding populations are not included in the radio service. After examining the pleadings we agree with petitioner that Morro Bay (population 7,109) is the type of community which requires a class B FM assignment in order for an FM station to survive there and have sufficient support to provide attractive programming. Moreover, an FM station at Morro Bay must be strong enough economically to survive competition from the two stations operating on class B channels at San Luis Obispo, 12 miles distant. (It is noted that the Pacific Ocean lies to the west of Morro Bay, and there are mountains to the north, south, and east. However, it appears that the mountainous terrain is such that the passage of FM signals may be limited but not barred.) [3]

11. Second, KSBY asserts that the assignment of channel 283 to Morro Bay is not in the public interest because it precludes the assignment of adjacent or cochannels to 11 other California communities: Camarillo (19,219), King City (3,717), Lompoc (25,284), Ojai (5,591), Oxnard (71,225), Paso Robles (7,168), San Luis Obispo (28,036), Santa Barbara (70,215), Santa Maria (32,749), Santa Paula (18,001), and Ventura (55,797). Bay Broadcasters' engineering study and our analysis indicate that KSBY is simply incorrect in this statement. The assignment of channel 283 to Morro Bay has no preclusionary effect on nine of the 11 communities listed by KSBY because of the existence of other assignments (in a number of instances more than one) which already preclude assignment to the nine communities of any FM channel related to channel 283. The Morro Bay assignment itself would preclude an assignment only at Paso Robles or San Luis Obispo. Paso Robles' population supra is approximately that of Morro Bay's. This community has one standard broadcast station licensed (an unlimited time KPRL) while FM Station KPRA broadcasts on FM channel 232A assigned to the community. San Luis Obispo (population 28,036) has three operative standard broadcast stations and two commercial FM stations located in it, supra footnote 2. Morro Bay has no operative broadcast station and without the establishment of the proposed FM service no prospect for a first fulltime local service. Furthermore there is no demand for an additional FM service at either Paso Robles or San Luis Obispo. Clearly, under these circumstances, it is in the public interest to prefer a first fulltime local service for Morro Bay rather than additional local service to either Paso Robles or San Luis Obispo. We note, from the view of the private interest of KSBY, that the assignment of channel 283 to San Luis Obispo would be undesirable in that such an assignment would indeed provide that which it wishes to avoid, new direct competition with its San Luis Obispo FM station, KSBY–FM. In sum, on this point, we affirm the statement made in our notice of proposed rule making in this proceeding:

> • • • the assignment of channel 283 to Morro Bay will not have a preclusionary effect on other assignments which would be opposed to the public interest.

12. Third, KSBY maintains that Morro Bay does not need an FM assignment because:

> Morro Bay is currently served by at least four nearby AM radio stations, KVEC, KATY, KSLY, San Luis Obispo; and KFYV in Arroyo Grande • • •. In addition to the AM stations, Morro Bay is also served by at least two FM stations, namely KSBY–FM and KATY–FM [KUNA(FM)], both located in San Luis Obispo • • •.

Petitioner sets out several facts concerning the listed stations' power, tower height, and distance from Morro Bay and concludes from them that the only fulltime external FM service received in Morro Bay with a useable signal is that of KSBY–FM and that the only useable signal at nighttime in Morro Bay received from a listed standard broadcast station is that of KVEC. It is our view in this matter, as in many other proceedings, that the key question with respect to the community of Morro Bay is not how many radio services it may receive from other communities, but rather, its need for a first local fulltime radio service.[4] Clearly, from the facts set out in this proceeding, Morro Bay is an independent community which has its own special needs, problems, tastes, and interests. It appears that its broadcast requirements can only be met effectively by the establishment of a first fulltime local radio voice: therefore, on the overall view, we must adhere, in this matter, to the emphasis we normally place on the creation of first local radio facilities.

13. In light of the above facts, analyses, and discussions we find that the public interest mandate of section 307(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended is best forwarded by the assignment of FM channel 283 to Morro Bay, Calif.

RM–1793, VIEQUES, PUERTO RICO

14. In response to a petition filed by Mr. Carlos Juan Colon Ventura on May 7, 1971, the notice of proposed rule making in this proceeding proposed to assign FM channel 255 to the Island of Vieques, Puerto Rico. No other change in the FM table of assignments was proposed in connection with the Vieques proposal. Petitioner filed timely comments on the last day for so doing, June 2, 1972. Pan Caribbean Broadcasting Corp. (Pan Caribbean), license of FM station WMDD–FM (operating on FM channel 243) and standard broadcast station WMDD, both at Fajardo, Puerto Rico, late filed an opposing comment on August 8, 1972. The time for filing reply comments had passed as of June 12, 1972. Pan Caribbean explains that it had inadvertently failed to notice the notice of proposed rule making in this proceeding and requests that we consider its comments in order to have the public interest factors, with which it asserts it is concerned, before us. We have considered the matter and notwithstanding our concern with the extent of the late filing have decided to accept Pan Caribbean's comments in this proceeding both because we are of the view that all public interest matters should be considered and because no objections have been filed to so doing by counsel for Mr. Ventura. The record indicates that Mr. Ventura's attorneys have been served a copy of the objecting comments by mail on August 8, 1972.

15. There is no FM assignment on the island of Vieques, Puerto Rico with its population of 7,767 residents. WIVV, a standard broadcast station, is licensed to the Calvary Baptist Mission of Puerto Rico, on Vieques. An application has been accepted proposing the construction of a standard broadcast station to use 1030 kHz on Vieques, BP–19204 filed by Vieques Radio Corp.[5] This application is mutually exclusive with three applications proposing standard broadcast stations at San Juan, Puerto Rico (BP–19073, Mr. Augustine L. Cavallaro; BP–19202, Summit Broadcasting of Puerto Rico Inc.; and BP–19201, Boricua Broadcasting Corp.) and one application filed proposing a standard broadcast station at Rio Grande, Puerto Rico (BP–19203, Mr. Jose Fiqueroa, Mr. Antonio L. Ochoa, and Mr. Gonzalo M. Aponte doing business as Fiqueroa & Associates).

16. Petitioner's comment in this rule making, RM–1792, in sum, incorporates by reference its earlier pleading and affirms Mr. Ventura's intention to apply for a construction permit for a station on channel 255 if it is assigned to Vieques. It seems that Mr. Ventura is of the view that our notice's description of his thoughts are correct and sufficient.

17. Pan Caribbean objects to Mr. Ventura's proposal on the basis that a wide coverage class B FM channel operating from Vieques would put a useable signal over the eastern tip of the main island of Puerto Rico and thereby compete with its stations WMDD–FM, channel 243, and standard broadcast station WMDD, both at Fajardo, Puerto Rico. In addition Pan Caribbean asserts that the proposed FM station on Vieques would compete with an expected FM service at Luquillo, Puerto Rico on newly assigned (effective July 28, 1972) FM channel 221A. In an attempt to demonstrate the poor economic status of FM broadcasting on the eastern tip of the main island of Puerto Rico it alleges that the class B channel, 299, assigned to Humacao, Puerto Rico, is presently lying fallow and will not be activated in the face of a Vieques service. With reference to the distances of two of the communities from Vieques: Fajardo is approximately 19 miles northwest and Luquillo is approximately 23 miles northwest. Concerning any possible disadvantage to newly assigned channel 221A at Luquillo we note only that the petitioner who requested the Luquillo assignment, Mr. Carlos Rivera, has filed no opposition to the Vieques proposal and continued to seek the FM assignment to Luquillo notwithstanding the knowledge he must have had concerning the Vieques proposal. The Vieques proposal was originally filed with this Commission May 7, 1971. With regard to channel 299 assigned to Humacao, it is presently being used at Carolina, Puerto Rico (WOLA–FM) under our prior "25-mile rule." Carolina is approximately 40 miles northwest of Vieques. No opposition to the Vieques assignment has been filed by the licensee of WOLA–FM, International Broadcasting Corp.

18. In respect to economic competition between the proposed Vieques FM service and Pan Caribbean's FM and AM combination at Fajardo, we observe that WMDD–FM is located on a class B channel (243), which has the same power potential as the class B assignment under consideration for use at Vieques. In accordance with our long established policy we here advise Pan Caribbean that we do not normally consider Carroll issues in rule making proceedings and that if it wishes to file an objection to the activation of channel 255 at Vieques because it believes that its operations will receive undue economic competition from such an FM service, it may file an opposition including a Carroll issue at the time of any specific application for the use of channel 255 at Vieques. See our decision in this docket (19491), RM–1789, Morro Bay, Calif., supra.

19. As public interest considerations Pan Caribbean emphasizes the small size of the island of Vieques and its population, 52 square miles and 7,767 persons, respectively. It maintains that class A FM channels such as 232A, 237A, and 280A could easily serve entire Vieques. Pan Caribbean also filed an exhibit which appears to indicate that the economy on Vieques is sluggish. We agree with it that Vieques contains a small population and that the economy does not appear to be active. Because of these facts we are convinced that for an FM service to be economically feasible on Vieques it requires the power which will enable it to serve not only Vieques and the boating in its surrounding waters but in addition those segments of eastern Puerto Rico which have a natural connection with, and interest in, the activity of the Vieques community. In brief, we agree with petitioner that this matter is one of those instances when a wide coverage FM service must be assigned to a small and isolated community in order for the station to have service area sufficient in size to make the FM service viable from the economic view. Too, we concur with Mr. Ventura's belief that a first local fulltime commercial FM radio service on Vieques may very well help strengthen and develop the community's economy.[6]

20. On balance, we have come to the judgment that it is in the public interest to amend the FM table of assignments (§ 73.202(b) of our rules) to assign channel 255 to Vieques, Puerto Rico. Our decision is based on the above facts, discussed policies and the mandate of section 307(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

21. Authority for the actions taken herein is contained in sections 4(i), 303 and 307(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

22. Accordingly, it is ordered, That effective February 2, 1973, the FM table of assignments in § 73.202(b) of the Commission rules is amended, insofar as the cities listed below are concerned, to read as follows:

City	Channel No.
Front Royal, Va	237A, 257A
Morro Bay, Calif	283
Vieques, P.R	255

23. It is further ordered, That this proceeding (Docket No. 19491, RM–1769, RM–1789 and RM–1792) is terminated.

(Secs. 4, 303, 307, 48 Stat., as amended, 1066, 1082, 1083; 47 U.S.C. 154, 303, 307)

Adopted: December 20, 1972.

Released: December 27, 1972.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,
[SEAL] BEN F. WAPLE,
Secretary.

[FR Doc.73-60 Filed 1-2-72;8:45 am]

[3] Based on theoretical engineering studies, petitioner's pleadings optimistically suggest that a class B FM station, operating with 50 kilowatts and antenna height of 500 feet above average terrain at Morro Bay would provide service to 200,384 persons in an area of 2,639 square miles and that, although it would not provide a first service, it would provide a second service, to 4,090 persons in an area of 698 square miles, or 2.05 percent of the population and 26.5 percent of the area within the 1 mv./m. contour. In contrast thereto, Bay Broadcasters asserts that a class A FM station, operating with a maximum facility, would provide service to 56,561 persons in an area of only 426 square miles, and a second service to 53 persons in an area of only 13 square miles, or 0.09 percent of the population and 3.1 percent of the area within the 1 mv./m. contour. KSBY quarrels with these statistics and suggests that substantially fewer people will be served by the proposed new service. Although it is difficult to make a conclusive judgment from the material before us, we tend to concur with KSBY on this point.

[4] We are aware that there is a construction permit outstanding (BP–14338) (held by Bay Broadcasting) for construction of a first standard broadcast station in Morro Bay. We note however that the construction permit for KABI will only permit the establishment of a daytime-only standard broadcast station.

[5] Vieques Radio Corp. formerly sought a standard broadcast service for Vieques on 1540 kHz which has been revised in the subject application to operate on 1030 kHz.

[6] One of the factors Pan Caribbean views as militating against the assignment of channel 255 in Vieques is the pending application for the use of 1030 kHz (BP–19204 filed by Vieques Radio Corp.) to establish a standard broadcast station on Vieques. Its reasoning is that Vieques will have sufficient local service with such a station. Pan Caribbean in making this point overlooks the fact that the Vieques standard broadcast station proposal is mutually exclusive with four other proposals. See paragraph 13, supra.

[Docket No. SD–102]

MARITIME DISASTERS, AWARDS AND SEIZURES

Claims Arising Out of Seizures of Vessels

Notice is hereby given that the Department of State proposes to revise and amend Part 86, Chapter I, of Title 22 of the Code of Federal Regulations relating to claims arising out of seizures of vessels. These revisions and amendments are necessary to implement the duties vested in the Secretary of State by the Fishermen's Protective Act, as amended by Public Law 92–569 of October 26, 1972 (22 U.S.C. 1971) and explain the procedures to be followed regarding claims for reimbursement.

Interested persons are invited to submit written comments, suggestions, or objections regarding the proposed revisions and additions to the Office of the Legal Adviser, Department of State, Washington, D.C. 20520, within 30 days after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

All written materials or suggestions submitted in response to this notice will be available for public inspection in room 5421, U.S. Department of State, 2201 C Street NW., Washington, DC, on Monday through Friday of each week from 8:45 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

[SEAL] U. ALEXIS JOHNSON,
Acting Secretary of State.

DECEMBER 26, 1972.

1. The table of contents of Part 86, following § 86.6, would read as follows:

Sec.
86.7 Seizures of vessels.
86.8 Certification by Secretary of State of fines, fees, and other direct charges.
86.9 Lien on vessel.
86.10 Claims arising out of seizures of vessels.
86.11 Notification.
86.12 Exemptions.

AUTHORITY: The provisions of this Part 86 issued under section 4 of the Act of May 26, 1949, as amended (63 Stat. 111, 22 U.S.C. 2658) unless otherwise noted and delegation of authority No. 94–1 dated March 6, 1969 (34 F.R. 5512).

2. Section 86.7 is revised to read as follows:

§ 86.7 Seizures of vessels.

(a) When a private vessel documented or certificated under the laws of the United States is seized by a foreign country on the basis of rights or claims in territorial waters or the high seas which are not recognized by the United States, and

(b) There is no dispute of material facts with respect to the location or activity of such vessel at the time of the seizure, the Secretary of State shall, as soon as practicable, take such action as he deems appropriate to attend to the welfare of such vessel and its crew while it is held by such country, to secure the release of such vessel and crew, and to immediately ascertain the amount of any fine, fee, or other direct charge which had been paid to secure the prompt release of the vessel and the crew.

3. The heading and text of § 86.8 is revised to read as follows:

§ 86.8 Certification by Secretary of State of fines, fees, and other direct charges.

(a) When a vessel is seized under the conditions stated in § 86.7, and a fine, license fee, registration fee, or any other direct charge has been paid in order to secure the prompt release of the vessel and crew, the legal adviser or deputy legal adviser, acting for the Secretary of State, shall, as soon as possible after ascertainment, make a certification to the Secretary of the Treasury of the amount of the fine, license fee, registration fee, or any other direct charge actually paid for reimbursement to the owner of such vessel from the Fishermen's Protective Fund, as authorized by the Act of October 26, 1972 amending the Fishermen's Protective Act of 1967.

(b) As a condition precedent to such certification, the owner of the vessel or his agent shall furnish the Secretary of State a "Certificate of Ownership of Vessel" showing that the vessel was documented or certificated under the laws of the United States at the time of seizure.

4. The heading and text of § 86.9 is revised to read as follows:

§ 86.9 Lien on vessel.

The amount of any reimbursement from the Fishermen's Protective Fund made by the Secretary of the Treasury to the owner of a vessel as provided in § 86.8 shall constitute a lien on the vessel which may be recovered in proceedings by libel in rem in the district court of the United States for any district within which the vessel may be found. Such lien shall terminate on the 90th day after the date on which the Treasury check of reimbursement is issued to the owner unless before such 90th day the United States terminates the lien or initiates action to enforce the lien. The Secretary of State shall initially determine at an appropriate time before the 90th day whether proceedings shall be initiated by the United States to enforce such lien. The Secretary of State shall request the Department of Justice to initiate and conduct the lien proceedings.

5. A new § 86.10 is added to read as follows:

§ 86.10 Claims arising out of seizures of vessels.

(a) Submission of claim. (1) Within 50 days after reimbursement of a fine, fee, or other direct charges by the Secretary of the Treasury, the owner of the vessel shall submit a properly prepared and documented claim to the Office of the Legal Adviser, Department of State, Washington, D.C. 20520. The claim may be filed by the owner of the vessel or by an authorized agent. When filed by an agent, the claim must show the title or capacity of the person presenting the claim and must be accompanied by evidence of his appointment as a duly authorized agent.

(2) The owner of the vessel or his agent may within 15 days after notification in writing by the Department of State of the invalidity of the claim or the insufficiency of evidence to support the claim, submit supporting legal briefs, additional documents or evidence, or request a review of the claim by the Department of State.

(b) Form of claim. The claim shall be prepared in the form of a sworn statement, in triplicate, and shall contain in narrative form a clear chronological statement of the following facts:

(1) Name and address of claimant.

(2) Date and manner in which claimant became a national of the United States.

(3) Date and manner in which claimant acquired vessel or other property involved.

(4) Name of home port of vessel at time of seizure and date of last documentation.

(5) Date and time of seizure and foreign government making the seizure.

(6) Detailed circumstances of the seizure, including the exact place of seizure and how determined, activities of the vessel when seized, actions of the seizing vessel, etc.

(7) Names of official and agency seizing the vessel and description of seizing vessel.

(8) Hearings afforded the captain of the vessel, defenses interposed and determination of the tribunal, including the amount of the fine paid, and/or the license fee, registration fee, and other direct charges exacted as a condition of release.

(9) Name of agency to which amounts in item 8 paid.

(10) Date vessel released and date sailed.

(11) Nature and amount of other losses sustained as a result of the seizure.

(c) Evidence to be submitted by claimant. There shall be attached to the sworn statement of claim documentary evidence consisting of original documents or certified copies thereof to support every allegation in the sworn statement. The documents filed as evidence shall be numbered consecutively and cited by number in the sworn statement in support of which the documents are filed. All evidence shall be filed in triplicate. The original evidence or certified copies thereof shall be attached to the original copy of the claim. Uncertified copies may be attached to the other two copies of the affidavit of claim. All documents submitted in other than the English language shall be accompanied by an English translation. The more important documentary evidence filed in support of the claim shall include the following:

(1) Articles of incorporation of the owner or partnership agreement of the owners and all amendments thereto.

(2) Proof of citizenship of officers and directors of the corporation or of the partners, or of a sole individual owner, as the case may be.

(3) Affidavit of an officer of the corporation as to the citizenship status of the stockholders as far as known.

(4) Receipt for payment of fine, fees, or other direct charge.

(5) Proof to substantiate all other expenses for which claim is made, consisting of receipts, vouchers, etc.

(6) Log of the vessel seized.

(7) Records of any hearings conducted by authorities of the government making the seizure relative to such seizure.

(8) Convincing evidence of any available nature to bring the case within the provisions of the statute.

(9) Affidavits of officers of the seized vessel corroborating allegations upon which the claim is based.

6. A new § 86.11 is added to read as follows:

§ 86.11 Notification.

The Department of State will notify the Department of the Treasury and the owner of the vessel or his agent in writing of the final determination made regarding any pending claim.

7. A new § 86.12 is added to read as follows:

§ 86.12 Exemptions.

The provisions of this section shall apply with respect to seizures of vessels of the United States occurring on or after October 26, 1972; except that reimbursements under section 3 of the Fishermen's Protective Act of 1967 may be made from the fund provided by section 9 of the Act as amended with respect to any seizure of a vessel occurring before such date of enactment and after December 31, 1970, if no reimbursement had been made before such date.

NATIONAL AND DISTRICT BANKS

Minimum Security Devices and Procedures

Notice is hereby given that the Comptroller of the Currency is considering a revision of appendix A, "Minimum Standards for Security Devices," to Part 21 entitled "Minimum Security Devices and Procedures for National and District Banks," of title 12 of the Code of Federal Regulations. The proposed revision of appendix A revises and clarifies the minimum standards with which each national and district bank must comply with respect to the installation, maintenance, and operation of security devices to discourage robberies, burglaries, and larcenies, and to assist in the identification and apprehension of persons who commit such acts.

Among the proposed revisions are a definition of vaults as distinguished from safes, modified standards of vault construction, and protection standards for cash dispensing machines. The standards for safe deposit boxes would be clarified to indicate that they must be stored in an approved vault or safe.

This notice is published pursuant to Section 553 of Title 5, United States Code. Interested persons are invited to submit in writing relevant data, views, or arguments to aid the Comptroller of the Currency in the consideration of this matter. Any such material should be identified by reference to "Proposed Revision to 12 CFR Part 21 Appendix A" and should be sent to the following address:

Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, Attention: Paul E. Lackland, Special Assistant to the Comptroller, Treasury Building, Washington, D.C. 20220.

The proposed revision of appendix A appears below.

Dated: December 26, 1972.

[SEAL] WILLIAM B. CAMP,
Comptroller of the Currency.

APPENDIX A

MINIMUM STANDARDS FOR SECURITY DEVICES

In order to assure realization of maximum performance capabilities, all security devices utilized by a bank should be regularly inspected, tested, and serviced by competent persons. Actuating devices for surveillance systems and robbery alarms should be operable with the least risk of detection by unauthorized persons that can be practicably achieved.

(1) Surveillance systems—(i) General. Surveillance systems should be:

(A) Equipped with one or more photographic, recording, monitoring, or like devices capable of reproducing images of persons in the banking office with sufficient clarity to facilitate (through photographs capable of being enlarged to produce a one-inch vertical head-size of persons whose images have been reproduced) the identification and apprehension of robbers or other suspicious persons;

(B) Reasonably silent in operation; and

(C) So designed and constructed that necessary services, repairs, or inspections can readily be made.

Any camera used in such a system should be capable of taking at least one picture every 2 seconds and, if it uses film, should contain enough unexposed film at all times to be capable of operating for not less than 3 minutes, and the film should be at least 16 mm.

(ii) Installation and operation of surveillance systems providing surveillance of other than walkup or drive-in teller's stations or windows. Surveillance devices for other than walkup or drive-in teller's stations or windows should be:

(A) Located so as to reproduce identifiable images of persons either leaving the banking office or in a position to transact business at each such station or window; and

(B) Capable of actuation by initiating devices located at each teller's station or window.

(iii) Installation and operation of surveillance systems providing surveillance of walkup or drive-in teller's stations or windows. Surveillance devices for walkup or drive-in teller's stations or windows should be located in such a manner as to reproduce identifiable images of persons in a position to transact business at each such station or window and areas of such station or window that are vulnerable to robbery or larceny. Such devices should be capable of actuation by one or more initiating devices located within or in close proximity to such station or window. Such devices may be omitted in the case of a walkup or drive-in teller's station or window in which the teller is effectively protected by a bullet-resistant barrier from persons outside the station or window. However, if the teller is vulnerable to larceny or robbery by members of the public who enter the banking office, the teller should have access to a device to actuate a surveillance system that covers the area of vulnerability or the exits to the banking office.

(2) Robbery and burglary alarm systems—(i) Robbery alarm systems. A robbery alarm system should be provided for each banking office at which the police ordinarily can arrive within 5 minutes after an alarm is actuated; all other banking offices should be provided with appropriate devices for promptly notifying the police that a robbery has occurred or is in progress. Robbery alarm systems should be:

(A) Designed to transmit to the police, either directly or through an intermediary, a signal (not detectable by unauthorized persons) indicating that a crime against the banking office has occurred or is in progress;

(B) Capable of actuation by initiating devices located at each teller's station or window (except walkup or drive-in teller's stations or windows in which the teller is effectively protected by a bullet-resistant barrier and effectively isloated from persons, other than fellow employees, inside a banking office of which such station or window may be a part);

(C) Safeguarded against accidental transmission of an alarm;

(D) Equipped with a visual and audible signal capable of indicating improper functioning of or tampering with the system; and

(E) Equipped with an independent source of power (such as a battery) sufficient to assure continuously reliable operation of the system for at least 24 hours in the event of failure of the usual source of power.

(ii) Burglary alarm systems. A burglary alarm system should be provided for each banking office. Burglary alarm systems should be:

(A) Capable of detecting promptly an attack on the outer door, walls, floor, or ceiling of each vault, and each safe not stored in a vault, in which currency, negotiable securities, or similar valuables are stored when the office is closed, and any attempt to move any such safe;

(B) Designed to transmit to the police, either directly or through an intermediary, a signal indicating that any such attempt is in progress; and for banking offices at which the police ordinarily cannot arrive within 5 minutes after an alarm is actuated, designed to actuate a loud sounding bell or other device that is audible inside the banking office and for a distance of approximately 500 feet outside the banking office;

(C) Safeguarded against accidental transmission of an alarm;

V 38 - 1 JAN 3 73 XUM

(D) Equipped with a visual and audible signal capable of indicating improper functioning of or tampering with the system; and

(E) Equipped with an independent source of power (such as a battery) sufficient to assure continuously reliable operation of the system for at least 80 hours in the event of failure of the usual source of power.

(3) Walkup and drive-in teller's stations or windows. Walkup and drive-in teller's stations or windows contracted for after February 15, 1969, should be constructed in such a manner that tellers are effectively protected by bullet-resistant barriers from robbery or larceny by persons outside such stations or windows. Such barriers should be of glass at least 1⅜ inches in thickness,[1] or of material of at least equivalent bullet-resistance. Pass-through devices should be so designed and constructed as not to afford a person outside the station or window a direct line of fire at a person inside the station.

(4) Vaults, safes, safe deposit boxes, night depositories, and cash dispensing machines. Vaults, safes (if not to be stored in a vault), safe deposit boxes, night depositories, and cash dispensing machines, in any of which currency, negotiable securities, or similar valuables are to be stored when banking offices are closed, should meet or exceed the standards expressed in this section.

(i) Vaults. A vault is defined as a room or compartment that is designed for the storage and safekeeping of valuables and which has a size and shape which permits entrance and movement within by one or more persons. Vaults contracted for after [effective date to be designated] [2] should have walls, floor, and ceiling of reinforced concrete at least 12 inches in thickness.[3] The vault door should be made of steel at least 3½ inches in thickness, or other drill and torch resistant material, and be equipped with dual combination locks, a time lock, and a substantial lockable day-gate. Electrical conduits into the vault should not exceed 1½ inches in diameter and should be offset within the walls, floor, or ceiling at least once so as not to form a direct path of entry. A vault ventilator, if provided, should be designed with consideration of safety to life without significant reduction of the strength of the vault wall to burglary attack. Alternatively, vaults should be so designed and constructed as to afford at least equivalent burglary resistance.[4]

[1] It should be emphasized that this thickness is merely bullet-resistant and not bullet-proof.

[2] Vaults contracted for previous to this date should be constructed in conformance with all applicable specifications then in effect.

[3] The reinforced concrete should have: two grids of No. 5 (⅝" diameter) deformed steel bars located in horizontal and vertical rows in each direction to form grids not more than 4 inches on center; or two grids of expanded steel bank vault mesh placed parallel to the face of the walls, weighing at least 6 pounds per square foot to each grid, having a diamond pattern not more than 3" by 8"; or two grids of any other fabricated steel placed parallel to the face of the walls, weighing at least 6 pounds per square foot to each grid and having an open area not exceeding 4 inches on center. Grids are to be located not less than 6 inches apart and staggered in each direction. The concrete should develop an ultimate compression strength of at least 3,000 pounds per square inch.

[4] Equivalent burglary-resistant materials for vaults do not include the use of steel lining, either inside or outside a vault wall, in lieu of the specified reinforcement and thickness of concrete.

(ii) Safes. Safes contracted for after February 15, 1969, should weigh at least 750 pounds empty, or be securely anchored to the premises where located. The body should consist of steel, at least 1 inch in thickness, either cast or fabricated, with an ultimate tensile strength of 50,000 pounds per square inch and be fastened in a manner equal to a continuous ¼-inch penetration weld having an ultimate tensile strength of 50,000 pounds per square inch. The door should be made of steel that is at least 1½ inches in thickness, and at least equivalent in strength to that specified for the body; and the door should be equipped with a combination lock, and with a relocking device that will effectively lock the door if the combination lock is punched. One hole not exceeding ½-inch diameter may be provided in the body to permit insertion of electrical conductors, but should be located so as not to permit a direct view of the door or locking mechanism. Alternatively, safes should be constructed of materials that will afford at least equivalent burglary resistance.

(iii) Safe deposit boxes. Safe deposit boxes used to safeguard customer valuables should be enclosed in a vault or safe meeting at least the above-specified minimum protection standards.

(iv) Night depositories. Night depositories (excluding envelope drops not used to receive substantial amounts of currency) contracted for after February 15, 1969, should consist of a receptacle chest having cast or welded steel walls, top and bottom, at least 1 inch in thickness; a steel door at least 1½ inches in thickness with a combination lock; and a chute, made of steel that is at least 1 inch in thickness, securely bolted or welded to the receptacle and to a depository entrance of strength similar to the chute. Alternatively, night depositories should be so designed and constructed as to afford at least equivalent burglary resistance.[5] The depository entrance should be equipped with a lock. Night depositories should be equipped with a burglar alarm and be designed to protect against the "fishing" of a deposit from the deposit receptacle, and to protect against the "trapping" of a deposit for extraction.

(v) Cash dispensing machines. Except as hereinafter provided, cash dispensing machines (including those machines which also accept deposits) contracted for after (effective date to be designated) should weigh at least 750 pounds empty, or be securely anchored to the premises where located. These machines should contain, among other features, a storage chest having cast or welded steel walls, top, and bottom, at least 1 inch in thickness, with a tensile strength of at least 60,000 pounds per square inch. The door should be constructed of steel at least equivalent in strength to the storage chest and be equipped with a combination lock and with a relocking device that will effectively lock the door if the combination lock is punched. The housing covering the cash dispensing opening (and, when applicable, deposit receiving opening) in the storage chest, and the housing covering the mechanism for removing the cash from the storage chest, should be so designed as to provide burglary resistance at least equivalent to the storage chest and should also be designed to protect against the "fishing" or cash from the storage chest. The cash dispensing control and delivery mechanisms (and, when applicable, cash deposit receipt mechanism) should be protected by steel, at least one-half inch in thickness, securely attached to the storage chest. The cash dispensing machine should be designed so as to be protected against actuation by unauthorized persons, should be protected by a burglar alarm, and should be located in a well-lighted area. Alternatively, cash dispensing machines should be so designed and constructed as to afford at least equivalent burglary resistance.[6]

A cash dispensing machine which is used inside a bank's premises only during bank business hours, and which is empty of currency and coin at all other times, should at least provide safeguards against "jimmying," unauthorized opening of the storage chest door, and against actuation by unauthorized persons.

[5] Equivalent burglary-resistant materials for night depositories include the use of ¼-inch steel plate encased in 6 inches or more of concrete or masonry building wall.

[6] Equivalent burglary-resistant materials for cash dispensing machines include the use of ⅜-inch thick 8 percent nickel stainless steel alloy in place of 1-inch thick steel, if other criteria are satisfied.

FOUNDATION TAXES

Taxes on Excess Business Holdings

Notice is hereby given that the regulations set forth in tentative form below are proposed to be prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury or his delegate. Prior to the final adoption of such regulations, consideration will be given to any comments or suggestions pertaining thereto which are submitted in writing (preferably six copies) to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Attention: CC:LR:T, Washington, D.C. 20224, by February 2, 1973. Any written comments or suggestions not specifically designated as confidential in accordance with 26 CFR 601.601(b) may be inspected by any person upon written request. Any person submitting written comments or suggestions who desires an opportunity to comment orally at a public hearing on these proposed regulations should submit his request, in writing, to the Commissioner by February 2, 1973. In such case, a public hearing will be held, and notice of the time, place, and date will be published in a subsequent issue of the FEDERAL REGISTER, unless the person or persons who have requested a hearing withdraw their requests for a hearing before notice of the hearing has been filed with the Office of the Federal Register. The proposed regulations are to be issued under the authority contained in section 7805 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (68A Stat. 917; 26 U.S.C. 7805).

[SEAL] JOHNNIE M. WALTERS,
Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

The following regulations are prescribed under section 4943 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as enacted by section 101(b) of the Tax Reform Act of 1969 (83 Stat. 507), relating to taxes on excess business holdings of private foundations. Temporary Treasury regulations § 143.6, 35 F.R. 6962 (T.D. 7038, 1970) are superseded. Except where otherwise specifically provided, these regulations are applicable with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1969.

Subpart D—Taxes on Excess Business Holdings

§ 53.4943 Statutory provisions; imposition of excise tax on excess business holdings.

SECTION 4943. Taxes on excess business holdings—(a) Initial tax—(1) Imposition. There is hereby imposed on the excess business holdings of any private foundation in a business enterprise during any taxable year which ends during the taxable period a tax equal to 5 percent of the value of such holdings.

(2) Special rules. The tax imposed by paragraph (1)—

(A) Shall be imposed on the last day of the taxable year, but

(B) With respect to the private foundation's holdings in any business enterprise, shall be determined as of that day during the taxable year when the foundation's excess holdings in such enterprise were the greatest.

(b) Additional tax. In any case in which an initial tax is imposed under subsection (a) with respect to the holdings of a private foundation in any business enterprise, if, at the close of the correction period with respect to such holdings, the foundation still has excess business holdings in such enterprise, there is hereby imposed a tax equal to 200 percent of such excess business holdings.

(c) Excess business holdings. For purposes of this section—

(1) In general. The term "excess business holdings" means, with respect to the holdings of any private foundation in any business enterprise, the amount of stock or other interest in the enterprise which the foundation would have to dispose of to a person other than a disqualified person in order for the remaining holdings of the foundation in such enterprise to be permitted holdings.

(2) Permitted holdings in a corporation—(A) In general. The permitted holdings of any private foundation in an incorporated business enterprise are—

(i) Twenty percent of the voting stock, reduced by

(ii) The percentage of the voting stock owned by all disqualified persons.

In any case in which all disqualified persons together do not own more than 20 percent of the voting stock of an incorporated business enterprise, nonvoting stock held by the private foundation shall also be treated as permitted holdings.

(B) Thirty-five-percent rule where third person has effective control of enterprise. If—

(i) The private foundation and all disqualified persons together do not own more than 35 percent of the voting stock of an incorporated business enterprise, and

(ii) It is established to the satisfaction of the Secretary or his delegate that effective control of the corporation is in one or more persons who are not disqualified persons with respect to the foundation, then subparagraph (A) shall be applied by substituting 35 percent for 20 percent.

(C) Two percent de minimis rule. A private foundation shall not be treated as having excess business holdings in any corporation in which it (together with all other private foundations which are described in section 4946(a)(1)(H)) owns not more than 2 percent of the voting stock and not more than 2 percent in value of all outstanding shares of all classes of stock.

(3) Permitted holdings in partnerships, etc. The permitted holdings of a private foundation in any business enterprise which is not incorporated shall be determined under regulations prescribed by the Secretary or his delegate. Such regulations shall be consistent in principle with paragraphs (2) and (4), except that—

(A) In the case of a partnership or joint venture, "profits interest" shall be substituted for "voting stock", and "capital interest" shall be substituted for "nonvoting stock"

(B) In the case of a proprietorship, there shall be no permitted holdings, and

(C) In any other case, "beneficial interest" shall be substituted for "voting stock."

(4) Present holdings. (A)(i) In applying this section with respect to the holdings of any private foundation in a business enterprise, if such foundation and all disqualified persons together have holdings in such enterprise in excess of 20 percent of the voting stock on May 26, 1969, the percentage of such holdings shall be substituted for "20 percent," and for "(35 percent" (if the percentage of such holdings is greater than 35 percent," and for "35 percent" (if the percentage so substituted be more than 50 percent.

(ii) If the percentage of the holdings of any private foundation and all disqualified persons together in a business enterprise (or if the percentage of the holdings of the private foundation in such enterprise) decreases for any reason, clause (i) and subparagraph (D) shall, except as provided in the next sentence, be applied for all periods after such decrease by substituting such decreased percentage for the percentage held on May 26, 1969, but in no event shall the percentage substituted be less than 20 percent. For purposes of this clause, any decrease in percentage holdings attributable to issuances of stock (or to issuances of stock coupled with redemptions of stock) shall be determined only as of the close of each taxable year of the private foundation unless the aggregate of the percentage decreases attributable to the issuances of stock (or such issuances and redemptions) during such taxable year equals or exceeds 1 percent.

(iii) The percentage substituted under clause (i), and any percentage substituted under subparagraph (D), shall be applied both with respect to the voting stock and, separately, with respect to the value of all outstanding shares of all classes of stock.

(iv) In the case of any merger, recapitalization, or other reorganization involving one or more business enterprises, the application of clauses (i), (ii), and (iii) shall be determined under regulations prescribed by the Secretary or his delegate.

(B) Any interest in a business enterprise which a private foundation holds on May 26, 1969, if the private foundation on such date has excess business holdings, shall (while held by the foundation) be treated as held by a disqualified person (rather than by the private foundation)—

(i) During the 20-year period beginning on such date, if the private foundation has more than a 95-percent voting stock interest on such date,

(ii) Except as provided in clause (i), during the 15-year period beginning on such date, if the foundation and all disqualified persons have more than a 75-percent voting stock interest (or more than a 75-percent profits or beneficial interest in the case of any unincorporated enterprise) on such date or more than a 75-percent interest in the value of all outstanding shares of all classes of stock (or more than a 75-percent capital interest in the case of a partnership or joint venture) on such date, or

(iii) During the 10-year period beginning on such date, in any other case.

(C) The 20-year, 15-year, and 10-year periods described in subparagraph (B) for the disposition of excess business holdings shall be suspended during the pendency of any judicial proceeding by the private foundation which is necessary to reform, or to excuse such foundation from compliance with, its governing instrument or any other instrument (as in effect on May 26, 1969) in order to allow disposition of such holdings.

(D)(i) If, at any time during the second phase, all disqualified persons together have holdings in a business enterprise in excess of 2 percent of the voting stock of such enterprise, then subparagraph (A)(i) shall be applied by substituting for "50 percent" the following: "50 percent, of which not more than 25 percent shall be voting stock held by the private foundation."

(ii) If, immediately before the close of the second phase, clause (i) of this subparagraph did not apply with respect to a business enterprise, then for all periods after the close of the second phase subparagraph (A)(i) shall be applied by substituting for "50 percent" the following: "35 percent, or if at any time after the close of the second phase all disqualified persons together have had holdings in such enterprise which exceed 2 percent of the voting stock, 35 percent, of which not more than 25 percent shall be voting stock held by the private foundation."

(iii) For purposes of this subparagraph, the term "second phase" means the 15-year period immediately following the 20-year, 15-year, or 10-year period described in subparagraph (B), whichever applies, as modified by subparagraph (C).

(E) Clause (ii) of subparagraph (B) shall not apply with respect to any business enterprise if before January 1, 1971, one or more individuals who are substantial contributors (or members of the family (within the meaning of section 4946(d)) of one or more substantial contributors) to the private foundation and who on May 26, 1969, held more than 15 percent of the voting stock of the enterprise elect, in such manner as the Secretary or his delegate may by regulations prescribe, not to have such clause (ii) apply with respect to such enterprise.

(5) Holdings acquired by trust or will. Paragraph (4) (other than subparagraph (B)(i)) shall apply to any interest in a business enterprise which a private foundation acquires under the terms of a trust which was irrevocable on May 26, 1969, or under the terms of a will executed on or before such date, which are in effect on such date and at all times thereafter, as if such interest were held on May 26, 1969, except that the 15-year and 10-year periods prescribed in clauses (ii) and (iii) of paragraph (4)(B) shall commence with respect to such interest on the date of distribution under the trust or will in lieu of May 26, 1969

(6) 5-year period to dispose of gifts, bequests, etc. Except as provided in paragraph (5), if, after May 26, 1969, there is a change in the holdings in a business enterprise (other than by purchase by the private foundation or by a disqualified person) which causes the private foundation to have—

(A) Excess business holdings in such enterprise, the interest of the foundation in such enterprise (immediately after such change) shall (while held by the foundation) be treated as held by a disqualified person (rather than by the foundation) during the 5-year period beginning on the date of such change in holdings; or

(B) An increase in excess business holdings in such enterprise (determined without regard to subparagraph (A)), subparagraph (A) shall apply, except that the excess holdings immediately preceding the increase therein shall not be treated, solely because of such increase, as held by a disqualified person (rather than by the foundation).

(d) Definitions; special rules. For purposes of this section—

(1) Business holdings. In computing the holdings of a private foundation, or a disqualified person (as defined in section 4946) with respect thereto, in any business enterprise, any stock or other interest owned, directly or indirectly, by or for a corporation, partnership, estate, or trust shall be considered as being owned proportionately by or for its shareholders, partners, or beneficiaries. The preceding sentence shall not apply with respect to an income or remainder interest of a private foundation in a trust described in section 4947(a)(2), but only if, in the case of property transferred in trust after May 26, 1969, such foundation holds only an income interest or only a remainder interest in such trust.

(2) Taxable period. The term "taxable period" means, with respect to any excess business holdings of a private foundation in a business enterprise, the period beginning on the first day on which there are such excess holdings and ending on the date of mailing of a notice of deficiency with respect to the tax imposed by subsection (a) under section 6212 in respect of such holdings.

(3) Correction period. The term "correction period" means, with respect to excess business holdings of a private foundation in a business enterprise, the period ending 90 days after the date of mailing of a notice of deficiency (with respect to the tax imposed by subsection (b)) under section 6212, extended by—

(A) Any period in which a deficiency cannot be assessed under section 6213(a), and

(B) Any other period which the Secretary or his delegate determines is reasonable and necessary to permit orderly disposition of such excess business holdings.

(4) Business enterprise. The term "business enterprise" does not include—

(A) A functionally related business (as defined in section 4942(j)(5)), or

(B) A trade or business at least 95 percent of the gross income of which is derived from passive sources.

For purposes of subparagraph (B), gross income from passive sources includes the items excluded by section 512(b)(1), (2), (3), and (5), and income from the sale of goods (including charges or costs passed on at cost to purchasers of such goods or income received in settlement of a dispute concerning or in lieu of the exercise of the right to sell such goods) if the seller does not manufacture, produce, physically receive or deliver, negotiate sales of, or maintain inventories in such goods.

[Sec. 4943 as added by sec. 101(b), Tax Reform Act, 1969 (83 Stat. 507)]

§ 53.4943–1 General rule; purpose.

Generally, under section 4943, the combined holdings of a private foundation and all disqualified persons (as defined in section 4946(a)) in any corporation conducting a business which is not substantially related (aside from the need of the foundation for income or funds or the use it makes of the profits derived) to the exempt purposes of the foundation are limited to 20 percent of the voting power in such corporation. In addition, the combined holdings of a private foundation and all disqualified persons in any unincorporated business (other than a sole proprietorship) which is not substantially related (aside from the need of the foundation for income or funds or the use it makes of the profits derived) to the exempt purposes of such foundation are limited to 20 percent of the beneficial or profits interest in such business. In the case of a sole proprietorship which is not substantially related (within the meaning of the preceding sentence), section 4943 provides that a private foundation shall have no permitted holdings. These general provisions are subject to a number of exceptions and special provisions which will be described in following sections.

§ 53.4943–2 Imposition of tax on excess business holdings of private foundations.

(a) Imposition of initial tax—(1) In general. Section 4943(a)(1) imposes an excise tax on the excess business holdings of any private foundation in any business enterprise for each taxable year of the foundation which ends during the taxable period (as defined in section 4943(d)(2)). The amount of such tax is equal to 5 percent of the total value of all the private foundation's excess holdings in each of its business enterprises. In determining the value of the excess holdings of the foundation subject to tax under section 4943, the rules set forth in §§ 20.2031–1 through 20.2031–3 (estate tax regulations) shall apply. In any case in which a private foundation has excess business holdings solely because of an acquisition (by purchase or otherwise) of an interest in a business enterprise by a disqualified person with respect to the foundation, the foundation shall not be treated as having such excess holdings but only if the foundation disposes of an amount of its holdings so that the foundation no longer has such excess holdings within the latter of 90 days from the date of such acquisition, or 90 days from the date on which the foundation knows, or has reason to know, of such acquisition, and the absence of such excess holdings is determined without regard to any disposition of such holdings by any disqualified person during such period. If a private foundation disposes of an interest in a business enterprise but imposes any material restrictions or conditions that prevent the transferee from freely and effectively using or disposing of the transferred interest, then the transferor foundation will be treated as owning such interest until all such restrictions or conditions are eliminated (regardless of whether the transferee is treated for other purposes of the Code as owning such interest from the date of the transfer).

(2) Special rules. In applying subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, the tax imposed by section 4943(a)(1)—

(i) Shall be imposed on the last day of the private foundation's taxable year, but

(ii) The amount of such tax and the value of the excess business holdings subject to such tax shall be determined with respect to the foundation's holdings (based upon voting power, profits or beneficial interest, or value, whichever is applicable) in any business enterprise as of that day during the foundation's taxable year when the foundation's excess holdings in such enterprise were the greatest.

In applying subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph, if a foundation's excess business holdings in a business enterprise which constitute such foundation's greatest excess holdings in such enterprise for any taxable year are maintained for 2 or more days during such taxable year, the value of such excess holdings which is subject to tax under section 4943(a)(1) shall be the greatest value of such excess holdings in such enterprise as of any day on which such greatest excess holdings are maintained during such taxable year.

(3) Examples. The provisions of this paragraph may be illustrated by the following examples:

Example (1). Y is a private foundation reporting on a calendar year basis. On January 1, 1973, Y has 20 shares of common stock in corporation N, of which five shares constitute excess business holdings. On June 1, 1973, Y disposes of such five shares; however, because of additional acquisitions of N common stock on such date by disqualified persons with respect to Y, the remaining 15 shares of N common stock held by Y now constitute excess business holdings. There are no further acquisitions or dispositions of N common stock during 1973 by Y or its disqualified persons. Although Y's greatest holdings in N during 1973 are held between January 1, 1973, and May 31, 1973, Y's greatest excess holdings in N during 1973 are held between June 1, 1973, and December 31, 1973. Therefore, the tax specified in section 4943(a)(1) shall be computed on the basis of the greatest value of such greatest excess holdings as of any day between June 1 and December 31, 1973.

Example (2). X is a private foundation reporting on a calendar year basis. On January 1, 1972, X has 100 shares of common stock in M corporation which are excess business holdings. On such date each share of M common stock has a fair market value of $100. On February 28, 1972, in an effort to dispose of such excess business holdings, X sells 70 shares of M common stock for $120 per share (the fair market value of each share on such date) to A, an individual who is not a disqualified person within the meaning of section 4946(a). The value of $120 per share is the highest fair market value between January 1 and February 28, 1972. X disposes of no more stock in M for the remainder of calendar year 1972. On December 31, 1972, the fair market value of each share of M common stock is $80. X calculates its tax on its excess business holdings in M for 1972 as follows:

100 shares of M common stock times $120 fair market value per share as of Feb. 28, 1972	$12,000
$12,000 multiplied by rate of tax (percent)	5
Amount of tax on X foundation's excess business holdings for 1972	$600

Example (3). Assume the same facts as in Example (2) except that the sale of X to A occurs on January 7, 1973, when the fair market value of each share of M corporation common stock equals $70. A value of $100 per share is the highest fair market value of the M common stock between January 1 and January 7, 1973. On May 9, 1973, X for the first time has excess business holdings in N corporation in the form of 200 shares of N common stock. The value per share of N common stock on May 9, 1973, equals $200. X makes no disposition of the N common stock during 1973, and the value of each share of N common stock as of December 31, 1973 equals $250 (the highest value of N common stock during 1973). X calculates its tax on its excess business holdings in both M and N for 1973 as follows:

100 shares of M common stock times $100 fair market value per share	$10,000
200 shares of N common stock times $250 fair market value per share	$50,000
Total	$60,000
$60,000 multiplied by rate of tax (percent)	5
Amount of tax on X foundation's excess business holdings for 1973	$3,000

(b) Additional tax. In any case in which an initial tax is imposed under section 4943(a) with respect to the holdings of a private foundation in any business enterprise, if, at the close of the correction period (as defined in section 4943(d)(3)) with respect to such holdings the foundation still has excess business holdings in such enterprise, there is imposed a tax under section 4943(b) equal to 200 percent of the value of such excess holdings as of the last day of such correction period.

§ 53.4943–3 Determination of excess business holdings.

(a) Excess business holdings—(1) In general. For purposes of section 4943, the term "excess business holdings" means, with respect to the holdings of any private foundation in any business enterprise (as described in section 4943(d)(4)), the amount of stock or other interest in the enterprise which the foundation, or, except as provided in § 53.4943–2(a)(1), a disqualified person with respect thereto, would have to dispose of, or cause the disposition of, to a person other than a disqualified person (as defined in section 4946(a)) in order for the remaining holdings of the foundation in such enterprise to be permitted holdings (as defined in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section). If a private foundation is required by section 4943 and the regulations thereunder to dispose of certain shares of a class of stock in a particular period of time and other shares of the same class of stock in a shorter period of time, any stock disposed of shall be charged first against those dispositions which must be made in such shorter period.

(2) Example. The provisions of this paragraph may be illustrated by the following example:

Example. Corporation X has outstanding 100 shares of voting stock, with each share entitling the holder thereof to one vote. F, a private foundation, possesses 20 shares of X voting stock representing 20 percent of the voting power in X. Assume that the permitted holdings of F in X under paragraph (b)(1) of this section are 11 percent of the voting power in X. F, therefore, possesses voting stock in X representing a percentage of voting power in excess of the percentage permitted by such paragraph. Such excess percentage is 9 percent of the voting power in X, determined by subtracting the percentage of voting power representing the permitted holdings of F in X (i.e., 11 percent) from the percentage of voting power held by F in X (i.e., 20 percent). (20%−11%=9%). The excess business holdings of F in X are an amount of voting stock representing such excess percentage, or 9 shares of X voting stock (9 percent of 100).

(b) Permitted holdings in an incorporated business enterprise—(1) In general. Except as otherwise provided in section 4943(c)(2) and (4), the permitted holdings of any private foundation in an incorporated business enterprise are—

(i) Stock representing 20 percent of the voting power in such enterprise, reduced by

(ii) Stock representing the percentage of voting power in such enterprise actually or constructively owned by all disqualified persons (with respect to such foundation).

In no event shall the permitted holdings of a private foundation in an incorporated business enterprise be less than zero.

(2) Nonvoting stock as permitted holdings. (i) In addition to those holdings permitted by subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, the permitted holdings of a private foundation in an incorporated business enterprise shall include any share of nonvoting stock in such enterprise held by the foundation in any case in which all disqualified persons (with respect to such foundation) hold, actually or constructively, no more than 20 percent of the voting power in such enterprise. All equity interests which are not voting stock shall, for purposes of section 4943, be classified as nonvoting stock. For this purpose, evidences of indebtedness (including convertible indebtedness) shall not be considered stock. For special rules relating to present holdings of nonvoting stock, see § 53.4943–4.

(ii) The provisions of this subparagraph may be illustrated by the following example:

Example. Assume that F, a private foundation, holds 10 percent of the single class of voting stock of corporation X, and owns 20 shares of nonvoting stock in X. Assume further that A and B, the only disqualified persons with respect to F, hold 10 percent of the voting stock of X. Under the provisions of subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, the 10 percent of X voting stock held by F will be classified as permitted holdings of F in X since 20 percent less the percentage of voting stock held by A and B in X is 10 percent. In addition, under the provisions of this subparagraph, the 20 shares of X nonvoting stock will qualify as permitted holdings of F in X since the percentage of voting stock held by A and B in X is no greater than 20 percent.

(3) Thirty-five-percent rule where third person has effective control of enterprise—(i) In general. Except as provided in section 4943(c)(4), subparagraph (1) of this paragraph shall be applied by substituting 35 percent for 20 percent if—

(a) The private foundation and all disqualified persons (with respect to such foundation) together do not hold, actually or constructively, more than 35 percent of the voting power in the business enterprise, and

(b) It is established to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that effective control (as defined in subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph) of the business enterprise is in one or more persons (other than the foundation itself) who are not disqualified persons (as defined in section 4946(a)) with respect to the foundation.

(ii) "Effective control" defined. For purposes of this subparagraph, the term "effective control" means the possession, direct or indirect, of the power (whether or not exercised) to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of a business enterprise, whether through the ownership of voting stock or otherwise. It is the reality of control which is decisive in this regard and not its form or the means by which it is exercisable.

(4) Two percent de minimis rule—(i) In general. Under section 4943(c)(2)(C), a private foundation is not treated as having excess business holdings in any incorporated business enterprise in which it (together with all other private foundations which are described in section 4946(a)(1)(H)) actually or constructively owns not more than 2 percent of the voting power and not more than 2 percent in value of all outstanding shares of all classes of stock. If, however, the private foundation together with all other private foundations which are described in section 4946(a)(1)(H) actually or constructively owns more than 2 percent of either the voting power or the value of the outstanding shares of all classes of stock in any incorporated business enterprise, all the stock in such business enterprise classified as excess business holding under section 4943 is treated as excess business holdings. For purposes of this paragraph, any stock owned by a private foundation which is treated as held by a disqualified person under section 4943(c)(4)(B) or (6) shall be treated as actually owned by the private foundation. For purposes of section 101(l)(2)(B) of TRA 1969 (83 Stat. 533), excess business holdings shall be determined without regard to section 4943(c)(2)(C) and as if every disposition by the foundation were made to disqualified persons. See § 53.4941(d)–4(b)(1).

(ii) Examples. The provisions of this subparagraph may be illustrated by the following examples:

Example (1). F, a private foundation, owns 1 percent of the single class of voting stock and 1 percent in value of all the outstanding shares of all classes of stock in X corporation. No other private foundation described in section 4946(a)(1)(H) owns any stock in X. All of the stock owned by F in X would be excess business holdings under section 4943(c)(1) if section 4943(c)(2)(C) were inapplicable. F owns no other shares of stock in X. Since F owns no more than 2 percent of the voting stock and no more than 2 percent in value of all outstanding shares of all classes of stock in X, under section 4943(c)(2)(C) none of the stock in X owned by F is treated as excess business holdings.

Example (2). Assume the facts as stated in Example (1), except that F and T, a controlled private foundation under section 4946

V 38 - 1 JAN 3 73 XUM

(a)(1)(H), together own 1 percent of all the voting stock and 1 percent in value of all the outstanding shares of all classes of stock in X. All of the stock in X owned by F and T would be excess business holdings under section 4943(c)(1) if section 4943(c)(2)(C) were inapplicable. Since F and T together own no more than 2 percent of the voting stock and no more than 2 percent in value of all outstanding shares of all classes of stock in X, under section 4943(c)(2)(C) none of the stock in X owned by either F or T is treated as excess business holdings.

Example (3). Assume the facts as stated in Example (1), except that F owns 3 percent of the voting stock in X, 2 percent of which is treated as held by P, a disqualified person of F, under section 4943(c)(4)(B). Under subdivision (i) of this subparagraph, the 2 percent of the stock in X owned by F which is treated as held by P under section 4943(c)(4)(B) is treated as actually owned by F for purposes of section 4943(c)(2)(C). Consequently, all of the X stock owned by F is treated as excess business holdings under section 4943(c)(2)(C). However, only 1 percent of the stock in X is subject to tax under section 4943(a), since the other 2 percent is treated as owned by a disqualified person under section 4943(c)(4)(B) for purposes of determining the tax upon F under section 4943(a).

(c) Permitted holdings in an unincorporated business enterprise—(1) In general. The permitted holdings of a private foundation in any business enterprise which is not incorporated shall, subject to the provisions of subparagraphs (2), (3), and (4) of this paragraph, be determined under the principles of paragraph (b) of this section.

(2) Partnership or joint venture—(i) In general. In the case of a partnership or joint venture, the terms "profits interest" and "capital interest" shall be substituted for "voting power" and "nonvoting stock," respectively, wherever those terms appear in paragraph (b) of this section.

(ii) Partnerships. The interest of a private foundation or any disqualified person (with respect to such foundation) in the profits and capital of a partnership shall be determined by the partnership agreement. In the absence of any provision regarding the sharing of profits, the interest in profits of such foundation (or such disqualified person) shall be determined in the same manner as its distributive share of partnership taxable income. See section 704(b), relating to the determination of the distributive share by the income or loss ratio, and the regulations thereunder. In the absence of a provision in the partnership agreement, the capital interest of such foundation (or such disqualified person) in a partnership shall be determined on the basis of its interest in the assets of the partnership which would be distributable to such foundation (or such disqualified person) upon its withdrawal from the partnership, or upon liquidation of the partnership, whichever is the greater.

(iii) Joint venture. The interest of a private foundation or any disqualified person (with respect to such foundation) in the profits and capital of a joint venture shall be determined under the rules of subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph, except that the term "joint venture" shall be substituted for the term "partnership" wherever that term appears in such subdivision.

(iv) Examples. The provisions of this subparagraph may be illustrated by the following examples:

Example (1). Assume that P is a partnership. Under the terms of the partnership agreement of P, F, a private foundation, holds a 20 percent interest in the profits of P, with C and D, the only disqualified persons with respect to F, each holding a 5 percent interest in the profits of P. Assuming that the provisions of section 4943(c)(2)(B) do not apply, the permitted holdings of F in P are 10 percent of the profits interest in P, determined by subtracting the percentage of profits interest held by C and D in P (i.e., 10 percent) from 20 percent. (20 percent − 10 percent = 10 percent) F, therefore, holds a percentage of the profits interest in P in excess of the percentage permitted by § 53.4943–3(b)(1). The excess business holdings of F in P are a percentage of the profits interest in P equivalent to such excess percentage or 10 percent of the profits interest in P, determined by subtracting the percentage of the profits interest representing the permitted holdings of F in P (i.e., 10 percent) from the percentage of the profits interest held by F in P (i.e., 20 percent) (20 percent − 10 percent = 10 percent).

Example (2). Assume the facts as stated in Example (1), except that F, in addition to a 20 percent profits interest, holds a 30 percent capital interest in P. Since the percentage of the profits interest held by C and D in P is less than 20 percent, such 30 percent capital interest will be included in the permitted holdings of F in P, and, consequently, will not be classified as excess business holdings.

(3) Sole proprietorship. For purposes of section 4943, a private foundation shall have no permitted holdings in a sole proprietorship. In the case of a transfer by a private foundation of a portion of a sole proprietorship, see subparagraph (2) of this paragraph (relating to permitted holdings in partnerships). For the treatment of a private foundation's ownership of a sole proprietorship prior to May 1926, 1969, see § 53.4943–4.

(4) Trusts and other unincorporated business enterprises—(i) In general. In the case of any unincorporated business enterprise which is not described in subparagraph (2) or (3) of this paragraph, the term "beneficial interest" shall be substituted for "voting power,"—wherever the term appears in paragraph (b) of this section. Any and all references to nonvoting stock in paragraph (b) of this section shall be inapplicable with respect to any unincorporated business enterprise described in this subparagraph.

(ii) Trusts. For purposes of this subparagraph, the beneficial interest of a private foundation or any disqualified person (with respect to such foundation) in a trust shall be determined as provided in § 53.4943–7(b)(2).

(iii) Other unincorporated business enterprises. For purposes of this subparagraph, the beneficial interest of a private foundation or any disqualified person (with respect to such foundation) in an unincorporated business enterprise (other than an enterprise described in subparagraph (2) or (3) of this paragraph, and other than a trust or an estate) includes any right to receive a portion of distributions from profits of such enterprise, and, if the portion of distributions is not fixed by an agreement among the participants, any right to receive a portion of the assets (if any) upon liquidation of the enterprise, except as a creditor or employee. For purposes of this subparagraph, a right to receive distributions of profits includes a right to receive any amount from such profits other than as a creditor or employee, whether as a sum certain or as a portion of profits realized by the enterprise. Where there is no agreement fixing the rights of the participants in such enterprise, the interest of such foundation (or such disqualified person) in such enterprise shall be determined by dividing the amount of all investments or contributions to the capital of the enterprise made or obligated to be made by such foundation (or such disqualified person) by the amount of all investments or contributions to capital made or obligated to be made by all participants in the enterprise.

(d) Examples. The provisions of this section may be illustrated by the following examples:

Example (1). Corporation X has outstanding 100 shares of voting stock, with each share entitling the holder thereof to one vote. Assume that F, a private foundation, possesses 30 shares of X voting stock, and that A and B, the only disqualified persons with respect to F, together own 10 shares of X voting stock. The excess business holdings of F in X are 20 shares of X voting stock, determined as follows:

(i) Determination of voting power percentages:
(a) Total number of outstanding votes in X	100
(b) Total number of votes in X held by F	30
(c) Total number of vote in X held by A and B	10
(d) Percentage of voting power in X held by F (item (b) divided by item (a)) (percent)	30
(e) Percentage of voting power in X held by A and B (item (c) divided by item (a)) (percent)	10
(ii) Determination of permitted holdings of voting power:
(a) Percentage of voting power in X held by A and B (percent)	10
(b) Permitted holdings of voting power by F in X (20% less item (a)) (percent)	10
(iii) Determination of excess business holdings:
(a) Percentage of voting power in X held by F (percent)	30
(b) Permitted holdings of voting power by F in X (percent)	10
(c) Item (a) less item (b) (percent)	20
(d) Excess business holdings of F in X (i.e., an amount of X voting stock representing a percentage of voting power equivalent to that in item (c)) (shares)	20

Example (2). F, a private foundation, is a partner in P partnership. In addition, A and B, the only disqualified persons with respect to F, are partners in P. The partnership agreement of P contains no provisions regarding the sharing of profits by, and the respective capital interests of, the partners.

(i) Assume that, under section 704(b), F's distributive share of P taxable income is determined to be 20 percent. In addition, assume that under such section, A and B are determined to have a 4-percent distributive share each of P taxable income. Accordingly, F holds a 20-percent profits interest in P, and A and B hold an 8-percent profits interest in P. Assuming that the provisions of section 4943(c)(2)(B) do not apply, the permitted holdings of F in P are 12 percent of the profits interest in P, determined by subtracting the percentage of the profits interest held by A and B in P (i.e., 8 percent) from 20 percent. (20 percent − 8 percent = 12 percent.) F, therefore, holds a percentage of the profits interest in P in excess of the percentage permitted by § 53.4943–3(b)(1). The excess business holdings of F in P are a percentage of the profits interest in P equivalent to such excess percentage, or 8 percent of the profits interest in P, determined by subtracting the permitted holdings of F in P (i.e., 12 percent) from the percentage of the profits interest held by F in P (i.e., 20 percent) (20 percent − 12 percent = 8 percent).

(ii) Assume that, under the partnership agreement, F would be entitled to a distribution of 20 percent of P's assets upon F's withdrawal from P and to a distribution of 30 percent of P's assets upon the liquidation of P. F, therefore, holds a 30-percent capital interest in P; that is, the greater of the percentage of the assets of P distributable to F upon F's withdrawal from P, or the percentage of such assets distributable to F upon the liquidation of P. Since the percentage of the profits interest held by A and B in P is less than 20 percent, such 30-percent capital interest will be included in the permitted holdings of F in P.

§ 53.4943–4 Present holdings.

(a) In general. Except as provided in paragraph (f) of this section (relating to special rules for corporate readjustments), section 4943(c)(4) and this section shall apply to holdings of a private foundation in a business enterprise only if the foundation actually or constructively owns an interest in such enterprise on May 26, 1969, or acquires an interest in such enterprise under the terms of a trust which was irrevocable on May 26, 1969, or under the terms of a will to which section 4943(c)(5) and § 53.4943–5 apply. Except as otherwise specifically provided, the term "voting power," as used in this section, shall include the terms "profits interest" and "beneficial interest," and the term "value of all outstanding shares of all classes of stock," as used in this section, shall include the term "capital interest."

(b) First phase—(1) In general—(i) Holding periods. If, on May 26, 1969, a private foundation has excess business holdings (determined without regard to the provisions of paragraphs (b)(5), (c), (d), and (e) of this section) in any business enterprise, then all interests which such foundation holds, actually or constructively, in such enterprise on May 26, 1969, shall (while held by such foundation) be deemed held by a disqualified person (with respect to such foundation), rather than by the foundation, during the following periods:

(a) The 20-year period beginning on May 26, 1969, if the private foundation holds, actually or constructively, more than 95 percent of the voting power in such enterprise on such date;

(b) Except as provided in (a) of this subdivision, the 15-year period beginning on May 26, 1969, if the combined holdings of the private foundation and all disqualified persons (with respect to such foundation) on such dates are, actually or constructively, more than 75 percent of the voting power in such enterprise;

(c) Except as provided in (a) of this subdivision, the 15-year period beginning on May 26, 1969, if the combined holdings of the private foundation and all disqualified persons (with respect to such foundation) on such date represent, actually or constructively, more than a 75-percent interest in the value of all outstanding shares of all classes of stock in such enterprise; or

(d) The 10-year period beginning on May 26, 1969, in any case not described in (a), (b), or (c) of this subdivision.

The 20-year, 15-year, or 10-year period described in this subdivision (whichever applies) shall, for purposes of section 4943 and this section, be known as "the first phase." A private foundation shall have no excess business holdings during the first phase with respect to any interest which the foundation holds, actually or constructively, in a business enterprise on May 26, 1969.

(ii) Sole proprietorship. The 20-year period described in subdivision (i)(a) of this subparagraph shall apply with respect to any interest which a private foundation holds in a sole proprietorship on May 26, 1969. For purposes of such subdivision, the term "voting power" shall include any such interest.

(iii) Effective date. At the close of the 20-year, 15-year, or 10-year period described in subdivision (i) of this subparagraph (whichever is applicable) and for all periods thereafter, no interest which a private foundation holds, actually or constructively, in a business enterprise shall be deemed held by a disqualified person (with respect to such foundation) by reason of such subdivision.

(2) Holdings acquired after May 26, 1969—(i) In general. If, on May 26, 1969, a private foundation has excess business holdings (determined as provided in § 53.4943–3) in any business enterprise, and if, after such date, such foundation acquires, actually or constructively, additional holdings in such enterprise, then the holdings acquired on or before such date shall be treated as provided in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, and the holdings acquired after such date shall be treated as provided in subdivisions (ii), (iii), and (iv) of this subparagraph.

(ii) Holdings acquired by trust or will. If, after May 26, 1969, a private foundation described in subdivision (i) of this subparagraph acquires additional holdings in a business enterprise under the terms of a trust which was irrevocable on such date, or under the terms of a will executed on or before such date which are in effect on such date and at all times thereafter, then such additional holdings shall be treated as provided in section 4943(c)(5) and the regulations thereunder.

(iii) Holdings not acquired by purchase. Except as provided in subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph, if, after May 26, 1969, a private foundation described in subdivision (i) of this subparagraph acquires additional holdings in a business enterprise (other than by purchase), then such additional holdings shall be treated as provided in section 4943(c)(6) and the regulations thereunder.

(iv) Holdings acquired by purchase. If, after May 26, 1969, a private foundation described in subdivision (i) of this subparagraph acquires additional holdings in a business enterprise by purchase, then such additional holdings shall not be treated as held by a disqualified person (with respect to such foundation) during any period in which such holdings are held by the foundation.

(v) Special rules. (a) In the case of a private foundation described in subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph, the percentage of holdings described in subparagraph (5)(i)(a)(1) of this paragraph and the provisions of paragraph (e) of this section shall be applied with respect to both holdings in a business enterprise acquired on or before May 26, 1969, and additional holdings in such enterprise acquired by will or trust subsequent to such date pursuant to the provisions of section 4943(c)(5). In applying the preceding sentence, any holdings which such foundation disposes of shall be charged first against those holdings which have been deemed held by disqualified persons (with respect to the foundation) for the shortest period.

(b) In the case of a private foundation described in subdivision (iii) of this subparagraph (regardless of whether it is also described in subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph), the percentage of holdings described in subparagraph (5)(i)(a)(1) of this paragraph and the provisions of paragraph (e) of this section shall be applied only with respect to those holdings in a business enterprise acquired on or before May 26, 1969, or acquired pursuant to the provisions of section 4943(c)(5).
